Intangible Levy Change Killed By Revenue Committee's Vote

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Amended legislation to apply a one mill levy upon all taxable intangible property Tuesday was killed by a 4-1 vote of the Legislature's Revenue Committee following a lengthy public hearing.

The measure, LB405, amended into its present form by the committee itself, was opposed by a string of business spokesmen, largely attorneys for domestic and foreign domesticated Nebraska corporations.

Support was voiced by representatives of the Nebraska Bankers Assn., and the Nebraska Investment Bankers Assn.

The proposal would have reduced the present 2½ mill levy on Class A (money and accounts receivable) intangible property and the 4 mill tax on stocks and bonds in foreign corporations to one mill.

In addition, the measure would have removed a series of deduction provisions which have the effect of exempting stocks and bonds in domestic and foreign domesticated corporations so as to apply the one mill rate on them.

Opponents argued that the bill would harm efforts to attract new industry, discourage investment in the state and result in a form of double taxation.

Omaha attorney W. C. Fraser, representing a number of client corporations, said the measure would "change public policy of more than 50 years that avoids double taxation."

Robert A. Skochdopole of Omaha, speaking for Union Stockyards Co. and Lyman-Richey Sand and Gravel Corp., argued that Nebraska statutes should seek to "encourage corporations to put their businesses in Nebraska, not just shares of stock."

Present tax provisions which "protect" domestic corporations are proper, he said.

Loss Feared

B. R. Gyger, representing the Omaha Board of Education, opposed the proposal out of a fear that school districts would lose revenue if the new bill produced less taxes than the present statute.

Opposition to portions of the measure was voiced by spokesmen for the Nebraska League of Savings and Loan Associations, the Nebraska Cooperative Council and 14 Nebraska production credit associations.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, who introduced the original bill, opposed the amended version.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who proposed the amendments, said stock in domestic corporations gets "a free ride" despite legislative intent to tax it at 4 mills.

"People who own intangibles have the same basic tax responsibility as other citizens," he declared.

"Make Up Difference'

Reduction in the tax rate on other classes of intangible property would result in an estimated annual revenue loss of $5 million, Carpenter said, but the provision to tax domestic stock "should make up the difference."

In other action, the committee advanced 6-0 LB145, a bill providing license fees for bowling alleys outside city limits.

Heard and held was LB718, proposing a constitutional amendment to provide for proportional taxation of motor vehicles operating in interstate commerce.

Students And Questions Impress Visiting Alumni

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

After spending a couple of days answering questions from students, 4 University of Nebraska alums are impressed — both with the students and the questions.

The quartet rounded out a second day at their alma mater by answering more questions — this time by the press — and strolling over to watch the Nebraska team in football practice.

The alumni participating in the unusual back-to-school visit were Chris Christensen, retired vice president of the Celotex Corp.; E. H. Dohrmann, personnel director for data processing, IBM Corp.; Judge Leslie Welch, probate court, Kansas City; Percy Spencer, board chairman of Sinclair Oil Corp., and J. Lee Rankin, former U.S. solicitor general. Rankin was not present at the press conference.

NU Honors Top Students

See Pages 8, 9.

The successful alumni returned to the NU campus to answer the questions of the present college generation on what is needed in today's world for success.

"I don't know what the students are getting out of our visit, commented Spencer, "but we (alumni) are getting a lot out of it."

'Much Brigher'

Spencer, who received his law degree in 1916, called today's student body "much brigher and more mature," and noted that "in this turbulent world, staggering in its complexities and uncertainties," students seem to have avoided the "jitters" which have infected many in the business world.

Judge Welch agreed that "students are smarter today" and added that "they asked some pretty tough questions." He estimated that only about 1,000 to 1,500 students had the opportunity to talk with the alums. "I hope there will be a chance for other alumni to come and talk to other groups."

Where would you send your children for an education? Judge Welch voted for "the enormous value in attending a college in the state in which you want to live. You learn to know people with whom you'll work, and you become familiar with the conditions and customs of your state."

Go Anywhere

Dohrmann, a 1938 graduate of NU, countered that today's college students "go where they want to go." He complimented the NU Mortar Board and Innocents for the "tremendous job of selling Nebraska" and added that "anywhere you go, you meet Nebraska alums in leadership positions. You can be proud of the fact that you went to the University."

Christensen, commenting on the type of educational background important for success today, summed up by supporting a "broad, general education." Students today, he said, "must learn to think, and must have an exposure to all fields of learning—literature, economics, philosphy, political science. They must be equipped not only with a trade, but equipped to deal with the problems of life."

City Stops Sky Park Manor Job

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Tuesday directed the city building inspector to halt construction on the Sky Park Manor apartment building at 1300 J.

The "stop work" order was directed until the corporation pays for the adjoining east-west alley vacated by the city.

The city vacated the alley because the Sky Park Manor developers needed an additional 9 feet to meet the required rear yard requirement of 30 feet.

City Clerk Harold Springer advised the council that a March 17 letter was sent to Selmer Solheim, a Lincoln architect and a co-owner of the building, indicating the sum due for the vacated alley, but he "never received an answer."

The council established a price of $2.50 per square foot for the vacated alley, or approximately $5,300.

Councilman Lloyd Hinkley suggested the real estate committee should come up with a new procedure requiring builders to deposit the correct amount before council action vacating streets and alleys.

The council also deferred Sky Park Manor's application for a curb setback pending final disposition of the alley matter.

Global Status For One Line

RESTRICT OTHER AIRLINES TO SPECIFIC AREAS

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy approved Tuesday a new policy recognizing global status for one U.S. airline—Pan American—and proposing to restrict other U.S. airline activities abroad to specific world areas.

The statement of international air transport policy for a jet age, drafted by a special interagency steering committee, calls for greater U.S. authority over international air fare violations and for a sterner attitude toward fare agreements with the airlines of other nations.

The policy statement specifically stayed clear of merger issues, including the two that have been proposed involving international services — Pan American and Trans World, and American and Eastern.

"The potential impact of mergers was not considered," the committee said.

Very Careful

N. E. Halaby, committee chairman, emphasized that particularly with regard to the Pan American-TWA merger proposal before the Civil Aeronautics Board, the committee was "very careful not to take a position on this merger."

Kennedy said in approving the policy statement that it took into account the health and growth of the airlines, the potential contributions of air transport to national security, and the needs of the traveller and the shipper.

"It does so in a way which considers the legitimate needs of other nations, and the basic principles under which we conduct our international relations," Kennedy said.

Be Guided

"I am directing the officials of this government concerned with air transport to be guided by this policy statement in carrying out their statutory responsibilities."

Thus it appeared that the principles embodied in the 13-page policy statement would go into effect gradually. They might also bring about considerable change.

The statement noted that since about 1940 the United States has adhered to the principle that international routes should be operated by more than one U.S. airline.

The statement said this policy "is sound, and deserves to be reaffirmed." The 1940 policy rejected the so-called chosen-instrument principle which, two decades ago, would have left the nation's foreign services to one U.S. airline, Pan American.

"Government flexibility in implementing international political and aviation policies would be reduced if the interests of any single carrier became, over the long run, too dominant a factor in U.S. aviation policy," the statement said.

"At present no one appears to be advancing the concept of a monopoly carrier to perform all U.S. international air services."

Comparable

The statement added that:

1. The United States should continue to aim for an airline system in which one U.S. company "has access to world markets on a scale comparable to that of the flag carriers or combinations of carriers of other major civil aviation powers."

Pan American currently lacks authority to operate across the United States, hence cannot provide a truly global service like that offered by such world giants as British Overseas Airways Corp. and Air France.

2. Other U.S. airlines should "continue to be authorized to serve one or more areas of the world in over-all competition with this carrier."

This situation already largely prevails, with TWA competing against Pan American in Europe, Africa and India, and Northwest Airlines providing competition across the Pacific and in the Orient.

FIRE DRILL IS RUSE

A happy janitor, Samuel Ross, with his wife Ruby, are surrounded by pupils of the Elysian Heights Elementary School in Los Angeles, Calif. — at an affair which started out as a fire drill. But the drill was only a ruse to get the janitor out to the playground. That's when the youngsters, aided by teachers and PTA mothers, presented the Negro janitor and his family with a bag of money, a scroll with names of 500 people who appreciate him — and a car. The yougsters had heard that Ross' father is very ill in Mississippi and that the janitor had no way of getting there. So they gave him the means of transportation and money for the trip.

Goodyear Talks Are Broken Off

. . . FIRESTONE AGREES

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and United Rubber Workers broke off contract negotiations in Cincinnati Tuesday night. No date was set to resume negotiations.

Workers on the 11 p.m. shift at Lincoln's Goodyear plant reported as scheduled, on an "hour-to-hour" basis, according to Local 286 President Lloyd Worley.

Worley and other union members were in the Local 286 offices early Wednesday awaiting further word from Cincinnati.

Contract Expired

The old contract expired at midnight Saturday, but workers had remained on the job on a day-to-day basis while negotiations continued.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., one of the industry's Big 3 reached a tentative agreement with the union Tuesday night.

Goodyear and union negotiators said they were glad to hear of the Firestone settlement, but declined to speculate how it would affect their negotiations.

Details Not Given

Firestone and union negotiators said details of their new two-year contract, which included wages and other provisions, would not be disclosed until after signing, probably about noon Wednesday.

The Firestone negotiations took place at Columbus, Ohio.

B. F. Goodrich negotiators were meeting with union representatives at Dayton, Ohio, but declined comment on any progress being made.

About 50,000 workers in plants across the country are affected by the union's negotiations with the rubber industry's Big 3.

Goodyear has 21,000 union-member employes at plants in 11 cities, including Lincoln.

Administration Readies New Push For Tax Cut

Washington (AP) — The Kennedy administration is quietly loading up for another broadside in behalf of its tax program.

This one is designed to persuade state and local governments they would realize handsome gains in revenue from the President's proposals.

Indirectly, it also will challenge the argument that rising state and local levies would counteract the administration's plan to enliven the economy by diverting tax dollars into consumer and business channels.

Anyway

Treasury officials look upon this year's $2-billion increase in Social Security deductions and elevated state and local taxes as events that have already happened or would have happened anyway. In any case, they contend the administration program would turn loose $10.3 billion by 1965.

A Treasury analysis reportedly claims the program's economic impact would enlarge state and local revenues by 8% or more at existing rates. This would add between $3 billion and $3.5 billion, without boosting rates, to the $40 billion collected last year from taxes and charges.

By these calculations, it is understood, New York State for example would take in an additional $300 million to $400 million.

Breakdown

A state-by-state breakdown is now being prepared and will be made public in a week or so.

Administration officials maintain states and localities stand to benefit for the same reason they predict federal revenue will shoot up in a few years. The theory is that cutting rates will feed money into the economy, accelerate business activity and thereby generate additional dollars to tax.

"State and local governments should be able to anticipate more rapid economic growth with confidence and finance their needs with fewer increases, fewer new taxes than otherwise," one Treasury official said.

Automatic

Spokesmen for the administration note that quite a few states, because of their tax systems, would profit automatically even if the economy stood still.

Sixteen of 33 states with income taxes permit deduction of federal income tax payments. These deductions would decline. Revisions in the tax structure, such as the proposed 5% floor on itemized deductions, would produce extra revenue for states using the same tax base as the federal government.

Another phase of the administration argument is that borrowing powers are limited in many places, so an increase in state or local tax rates would suggest a demand for funds that would be spent right back into the economy.

How Much

Just how much of the Kennedy program becomes law depends on Congress, but Treasury officials say a number of states are counting on some of federal tax cut to alleviate their fiscal problems.

NAD Land Given To Ag Dept.

. . . 10,000 ACRES FOR ANIMAL RESEARCH

Approximately 10,236 acres of land at the Naval Ammunition Depot near Hastings are being transferred to the U.S. Department of Agriculture for use in an animal research program.

This was made known in a letter from Lawson B. Knott Jr., acting administrator of the General Services Administration in Washington, to Gov. Frank Morrison. The governor released the letter Tuesday.

The animal research will be conducted in conjunction with the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

35,000 Acres Eventually

USDA plans call for eventual development of 35,000 acres for the livestock research center. Its cost has been set at approximately $4 million.

Present beef research activities carried on at Ft. Robinson near Crawford are to be transferred to the Clay County site. Crawford-area residents have protested the move.

When the size of the new center was explained Feb. 15 to 100 Clay Countians at Clay Center, it seemed to allay fears of those who wanted the NAD land returned to private farming so it could go back on property tax rolls.

"The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Department of the Interior also has indicated an interest in 320 acres of land at the Naval Depot," the letter to Morrison said.

No disposition has been decided upon for the remaining 180 acres of the 10,736 acres declared surplus to Defense Department needs last year.

Knott advised the governor he would be informed immediately when the transfer of the 10,236 acres to USDA is completed.

Controversy

Disposition of the 48,752-acre depot has been a controversial subject in Clay County almost since World War II.

Of the tract, 80% is in Clay County, taking up approximately one-seventh of its total area. The USDA center will be situated mostly in the county.

NAD has 22 buildings also to be disposed of. Hastings College has indicated interest in one of them, and the Nebraska Public Institutions Department has proposed use of 180 acres for a state youth training and treatment center.

Firemen Aid 'Cowboy' In Tight Squeeze

Tommy Reisner, 2½, learned a lot about heads and railings Tuesday afternoon.

Tommy was playing "cowboys" with his sister, and dropped his toy gun off the porch of his home at 2025 S. 48th.

Tommy thought it would be easier to lean through the iron railing and pick it up than it would be to go around.

He put his head between two of the bars, but still couldn't reach his gun. He tried to back out. No luck—he was stuck.

"I tried for 10 minutes to get his head out," said his mother, Mrs. James G. Reisner, "but I couldn't, so I called the fire department."

The firemen came to Tommy's rescue and "threaded him through" according to Mrs. Reisner.

Tommy was glad to get his head out, but his mother said he liked the fire truck and the firemen so much she was afraid he would do it again.

ICC To Visit Neutral Side

. . . IN LAOS FIGHTING

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — The International Control Commission barred from operating within lines of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, is sending a truce team Wednesday or Thursday to the neutralist side in the Plaine des Jarres campaign.

Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma announced Tuesday this one-sided effort for peace. The neutralist leader said the commission's observers—representing India, Canada and Poland—can at least see "who is firing the rifle shots."

There had been a 48-hour lull in the shooting, but heavier fighting threatened. Rightist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan said he would send his regulars into action as allies of the outnumbered neutralists if the Pathet Lao completed its conquest of the plaine, a strategic plateau 110 miles north of Vientiane.

A Pathet Lao broadcast from the interior asserted that two of Phoumi's crack paratroop battalions had been dropped in the Plaine des Jarres area Monday and Tuesday. It said this proved the United States and the rightists "did not want to end the present military conflict." Phoumi denied similar Pathet Lao charges last week.

Developments

Abroad, a series of developments reflected concern of the United States and other powers at the menace to Laos' neutrality and independence that were guaranteed by a 14-nation Geneva conference last July:

—Units of the mighty U.S. 7th Fleet were reported moving to the South China Sea area off the Gulf of Siam as a precaution against a Communist takeover of the jungle kingdom. Laos itself is landlocked, but it is a potential stepping stone to its Southeast. Asian neighbors—some pro-Western and others neutral.

—U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, fresh from urgent consultations with French authorities about the Laotian situation, sped to London for simiar talks with the British. He told newsmen "it is very important that we make the Communist realize that we are not going to stand for any nonsense."

Rejected

—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said the British have rejected a Russian proposal that Britain join the Soviet Union in charging the United States with fanning tension in Laos. The Russians made the proposal in a note to British Ambassador Sir Humphrey Trevelyan in Moscow Saturday. Among other things the note asserted that "the United States is continuing to give military aid to one of the political groupings in Laos."

— Military consultations were pursued at headquarters of the 8-nation Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Bangkok, Thailand. The two top U.S. military commanders in Asia were on hand. They are Adm. Harry D. Felt, U.S. Pacific commander, and Gen. Paul D. Harkins, chief of American military assistance to South Viet Nam and Thailand.

—The U.S. attack carrier Ticonderoga and the guided missile destroyer Robinson were two days out of Manila Bay on an unannounced mission. Heading a flotilla anchored at the Philippine Subic Bay, the U.S. Navy's chief center of operations off Southeast Asia, was the helicopter carrier Yorktown.

Hamstrung

The International Control Commission, largely hamstrung by the leftists in its efforts to oversee the ceasefire that ended a Laotian civil war last spring, is headed by Avtar Singh of India.

The decision to let the commission's foreign experts take station near an airstrip still held by the neutralists of Gen. Kong Le was reached by Souvanna's coalition government unanimously, as all its decisions must be. Rightist, leftist and neutralist ministers assented.

But Deputy Premier Prince Souphanouvong, half-brother of Souvanna and political chief of the Pathet Lao, vetoed operation of the team on Red-held territory.

His argument was that the neutralists touched off the fighting and that, therefore, it is unnecessary for the ICC to have a team on the pro-Communist side.

Four Flee From Michigan Prison

Jackson, Mich. (UPI) — Four hardened criminals, two of them convicted murderers, climaxed weeks of planning early Tuesday by escaping from the maximum security section of the nation's largest walled prison.

State police rushed into the area around Southern Michigan Prison to bolster city and county law officials who immediately sealed off all roads leading out of the area. Planes and dogs were brought into the search and an official from the State Department of Correction immediately launched an investigation into the breakout.

At large were:

Richard Mauch, 40, serving two terms of life and 20-30 years for kidnaping and assault with intent to murder a police officer.

Elmer Crachy, 24, serving 20-30 years as a habitual criminal.

Robert L. Gipson, 30, serving 13-25 years for murder.

James J. Hall, 40, serving a life term for murder.

It was only the second escape by more than a single inmate from the maximum security portion of "Jacktown," a prison that grabbed headlines in April, 1952, when 1,000 inmates went on a rampage that continued for 4 days and finally was halted when the governor agreed to an 11-point demand framed by the riot leaders. Damage to prison property at that time ran over $1 million.

Prison officials said the escape had been planned "for weeks or months." They said they believed the escape took place between midnight and 1 a.m. CST. The absence of one prisoner was discovered at 2:15 a.m. The escape of the others was not reported until 6 a.m.

The men cut through two sets of steel bars in each of the 4 cells. They disguised their work from the eyes of guards by filling the saw marks with putty. They left dummies in their beds to fool the guards while they made their way through a chain link fence.

Erhard Wins Despite Adenauer's Objections

Bonn, Germany (AP) — West Germany's strongest party overruled the objections of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday and nominated Ludwig Erhard, sometimes called "Mr. Economic Miracle," to head the next government.

It was a bitter blow for the 87-year-old chancellor, who is committed to retire from the No. 1 job this fall. He believes Erhard, 66, lacks political skills necessary to run the government.

The two shook hands and promised to work together after Erhard was picked, 159 to 47, at a meeting of parliamentary representatives of their Christian Democratic Party and its close ally, the Christian Socialist Union of Bavaria.

Angry

But Adenauer looked angry and brushed reporters away impatiently at the end of the two-hour session.

"You'll find out all about it from the others," he said.

On the other hand, Erhard was beaming.

Delighted

"I am very happy about the result," he said. "I look forward to the future with confidence and to my work with the chancellor. I will cooperate with him fully and unstintedly until the day I take over."

Erhard has been minister of economics for 13 years. If everything goes as planned, he will take over the chancellorship when Adenauer steps down.

Heinrich von Brentano, the Christian Democrats' leader in parliament, was designated to inform President Heinrich Luebke of the nomination.

To Bundestag

When Adenauer resigns Luebke will send Erhard's name to the bundestag, the lower house in parliament. The bundestag elects the chancellor.

The two Christian parties do not have a majority in the bundestag. They work in a coalition with the Free Democrats, a right-of-center group. But the Free Democrats announced after the vote that they are ready to continue the coalition under Erhard.

'Act Of Clemency' Hailed By Cubans

Havana (UPI)—Four Cuban prisoners exchanged for 21 Americans held in Cuban jails arrived Tuesday to a chorus of praise in the local press for Fidel Castro's "act of clemency."

The 4 men, one of them serving a 20-year-to-life sentence for murder in New York, landed in a Cuban airliner at Baracoa, just west of Havana.

Where they boarded the plane following their release in New York late Monday and why they were landed at Baracoa instead of Havana remained an official secret.

'Too Good'

One guess was they looked "too good" compared to their thin and weak American counterparts who landed Monday at Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., and the regime wanted them out of sight.

The men were Francisco (The Hook) Molina, the convicted murderer, and 3 other Cubans charged with sabotage conspiracy — Roberto Santiesteban, Antonio Suerio and Jose Garcia.

They were charged with planning to blow up U.S. defense installations.

Confusion

(Some confusion existed as to just how many Americans were involved in the prisoner exchange. New York attorney James B. Donovan said 27 American citizens were involved in his trade talks with Castro. However, Havana dispatches reported "21 of 27 American citizens" were involved. Donovan had said that although only 21 Americans arrived with him Monday, 3 others went to an unnamed Latin American country and 3 others remained in Cuba, only one of whom, Rafael Del Pino, remained in jail.

(Donovan explained that there are some native-born Cubans who are naturalized U.S. citizens still being held because, he said, Castro regards them as Cubans.)

Test Ban Treaty In Soviet Interest Also

Washington (AP)—In advance of a U.S.-British appeal to Premier Khrushchev, U.S. disarmament chief William C. Foster expressed hope Tuesday that Russia will see it is in her own interest to sign a nuclear test ban treaty.

Foster spoke to newsmen at a State Department foreign policy briefing shortly before a spokesman announced that the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Foy Kohler, will see Khrushchev Wednesday.

Joining Kohler in the Kremlin appointment is Britain's ambassador, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan.

The aim of the two ambassadors, as described here, will be to revive Khrushchev's flagging interest in an atomic weapons test ban.

There was an acknowledged possibility, too, that the Kremlin session might lead to a higher level meeting at the summit or foreign minister levels later. But U.S sources tended to discount this idea—at least for now.

It was stated that the British, who are fonder than Americans of high-level get-togethers with the Reds, were the initiators of Wednesday's meeting. Prime Minister Macmillan has been under attack from ban-the-bomb critics at home.

But in the U.S. view, Wednesday's interview could shed light on Khrushchev's latest thinking. And Washington shares with London an urgent desire to halt the nuclear race.

Foster refused to acknowledge that apparent rebuffs by the Russians on test ban questions mean the Kremlin has irrevocably turned against a test ban treaty.

He said he does not believe Khrushchev will withdraw his offer to allow on-site inspections inside Soviet territory, despite the Soviet leader's statement Monday that Russia was considering doing so.

The U.S. disarmament administrator said Khrushchev is well aware that he cannot get a test ban agreement with the West without allowing inspections to police it.

Council Moves For Annexation

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED ON DISPUTED W. LINCOLN AREA

The City Council Tuesday introduced an ordinance for annexation of the controversial 8-block Midway Addition area on the east edge of West Lincoln.

West Lincoln recently annexed the area, but area residents and property owners have told the council they prefer to be annexed by Lincoln.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson has said the village, in his opinion, has not legally annexed the 8-block area.

Meeting Planned

Public hearing on the ordinance will be May 6, but the council voted 5-1 (with Councilman Al Duteau dissenting) to meet with the new West Lincoln village board to discuss the annexation matter and other mutual problems.

Mayor D. L. Tyrrell and Councilmen Lloyd Hinkley, Robert Fulton and DuTeau voted to advance the ordinance to second reading, but the move failed for lack of the required two-thirds majority.

Council members John Comstock and Helen Boosalis voted against the speed-up of the ordinance, urging that the joint meeting with the village board be held first.

In other action, the council approved an ordinance annexing a 40-acre tract between A and Sumner, 63rd and 66th, as requested by owner Richard Agee.

An ordinance annexing the remaining 40-acres of the Agee property between 66th and 70th and the Eldon E. Taylor property between 63rd and 70th, A and O, is to be introduced next Monday, council members said.

Two other annexation ordinances were also introduced.

One included the Antelope Creek dam area (Holmes Park) and surrounding property west of 70th, north of Pioneers and south of South. The measure was given two readings with public hearing scheduled April 29.

The other, which includes a West A area west of 1st, will be heard May 6.

Council action on other ordinances:

Introduced, 1st Reading

—Paving district for Arapahoe from 10th to 14th and 13th from High to Arapahoe. (Given two readings.)

—Sewer district for alley from 71st to 70th between Kearney and Logan.

—Amendment to the city's dog ordinance and adopting provisions of the state law prohibiting the owner of a dog, which has bitten a person, to refuse to permit the animal to be taken into custody for observation by a police officer or other designated agent of the city.

—Plat of Capitol Beach Manor, a residential subdivision near Capitol Beach Lake in the West O area.

—Amendment to the citys' occupation tax on vending machines to provide a sliding tax scale on 26 machines or more under single ownership. The basic annual tax would be $5 per machine on 25-cent machines, $2 on 10, 15 and 20-cent machines, $1 on 5-cent machines, and 50 cents on 1-cent machines.

"G" local business zoning for property located on 65th between Dudley and Orchard. (Given two readings.)

—Plat of Flower Land Replat, a 5-lot replat near 37th and Prescott.

All council members were present except Councilmen Ed Becker.

Protection For City Water Supply Studied

A preliminary plan and feasibility study for a Platte River flood protection structure for Lincoln's municipal well field near Ashland is being developed by the Corps of Engineers.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson told the City Council that the proposed structure would be 20,000 feet of dike beginning on the north edge of the well field.

A preliminary cost estimate was reported at $400,000, subject to further engineering study.

Erickson said a Corps spokesman estimated a congressional appropriation for the project could not be secured before 1965 under the most favorable conditions.

Erickson said a Corps representatives would meet with the council within the next 30 days to present the matter and secure local endorsement of the project.

City Recommends License Transfer

Transfer of an off-and-on-sale beer license to The Pines Inc. for 123 No. 14th was recommended by the City Council Tuesday to the State Liquor Control Commission.

The license is being relinquished May 1 by John H. and Tillie Wilhelm.

Corporation officers were listed as Archie Schoonover, who will actively manage the tavern, and J. M. Tews, wife of David Tews, a Lincoln attorney, and P. A. Acklie, wife of Duane Acklie, also an attorney.

The council was advised the corporation is paying $9,000 for the business, plus inventory, and that Mrs. Tews and Mrs. Acklie are investing equally.

Schoonover will have no money invested, but will be a salaried employe, the council was told.

Council Calls For Bids On Arterial Street Relighting

The City Council Tuesday called for May 8 construction bids for the arterial street relighting of West O from the Salt Creek bridge to the start of the highway median beyond the Burlington railroad crossing.

The project for the installation of mercury-vapor illuminaires was estimated at approximately $20,000.

In other action, the council approved a special permit to Jack Alles to construct and operate a medical building with 5 professional offices and off-street parking for 36 cars near 64th and Platte.

Council Backs Bill Allowing Publicity Fund

A City Council resolution favoring LB782 as amended was adopted Tuesday.

The legislative bill would authorize cities and villages to appropriate funds to conduct publicity campaigns in the acquisition of an electrical distribution system by the municipality.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson explained that the amendments would:

—permit the city to appropriate annually from revenues received by the city or village in the operation of a proprietary function.

—add "utility services" to the various resources that a city or village could promote.

—permit the sum of money to be expended directly by the municipality.

Nelson said the amendments "will strengthen the city's position on the issue."

Residents Seek Hard Surfacing

Normal Boulevard residents would like the street hard-surfaced between 59th and 61st, the City Council was told Tuesday.

Arthur Pond of 5930 Normal said the street's "dust problem" will become increasingly worse now that Normal is being opened as the major access route to Holmes Park (Antelope Creek Dam).

"We figure the city will eventually widen and pave Normal from 59th to 70th," Pond said, "but residential owners want some type of nominal-cost hardsurfacing for these two blocks."

At the council's suggestion, Pond agreed to attempt to secure a special assessment district petition for hardsurfacing of 59th to 61st.

Education, Physics Professors Cited

DR. MIELENZ

Dr. Mary Mielenz, professor of secondary education, and Dr. Theodore Jorgensen Jr., professor of physics, were revealed Tuesday as the 1963 recipients of the University of Nebraska Foundation's awards for distinguished teaching.

The awards include a $1,000 stipend and a medallion, presented at the university's honor convocation by Burnham Yates, Lincoln banker and foundation vice president.

Made annually since 1953, the distinguished teaching awards are based on nominations submitted by the various colleges of the university.

Personal Interest

The first woman to receive the honor, Dr. Mielenz was cited for "her sincere personal interest in students and constant devotion to the profession of teaching, especially in her own field, instruction in English. As an advisor of individual students and student groups she has won respect and affection.

"Hundreds of Nebraska homes and school rooms are better places than they might otherwise have been without the influence of this patient and capable teacher," the citation read.

A native of Columbus, Dr. Mielenz began her professional career as a high-school teacher at Stromsburg in 1922, the same year she received her bachelor's degree from the university. She received her M.A. from the University of Chicago and taught a year at Wayne State Teachers College before joining the university in 1938. She received her Ph.D. at Nebraska in 1940 and was elevated to the rank of full professor in 1957.

Among her duties is supervisor of English at University High School. She also assists with the workings of the Nebraska English Curriculum Center.

Dr. Jorgensen was cited for his "patience with those students whose minds fail to match the incisiveness of his own. He insists upon effort but not upon the impossible. He is a man of integrity, honor, and ability."

He first became a teacher at the university 39 years ago while he was still an undergraduate. He received his B.A. in 1928 and his M.A. in 1930, both from Nebraska, and his Ph.D. in 1935 from Harvard University.

During World War II, Dr. Jorgensen was a member of the select team of scientists engaged in atomic research and development at the Los Alamos project.

His own research in the atomic field is widely respected. The Atomic Energy Commission has supported his research with more than $100,000 in grants since 1948. The research concerns the reaction of protons when shot into gases at speed upward of 600 miles per second.

Dr. Jorgensen was named full professor in 1946.

Engineer's Salary Hike Under Study

A possible salary increase for Elmer Cole, a construction engineer in the city engineering department, was taken under advisement Tuesday by the City Council.

City Engineer Carl Fisher advised the council that Cole, a department employe for 33 years, will resign to accept private employment unless his pay rate of $605 per month is substantially increased.

Fisher said Cole should be retained by the city, but wanted a week before making a salary recommendation to the council.

He indicated a salary hike in Cole's sub-professional grade could affect 4 or 5 other positions as well as the professional engineer salary schedule.

One council member suggested any salary increases in the engineering department should be on merit and not because an employe is threatening to leave.

Several months ago, the council retained Deputy City Engineer N. W. Beezley with a salary increase after he reportedly accepted an offer to become public works director at Independence, Mo.

In other action, the council informally agreed to reappoint John Lawlor, Joe W. Seacrest, W. O. Dobler and Mrs. Ralph Beechner to the City Park and Recreation Advisory Board.

Resurfacing Bids Will Be Opened May 16 By Council

Construction bids for the widening and resurfacing of East O from 50th to 63rd will be opened May 16.

The City Council Tuesday approved final plans and specifications and May 16 bidding under a joint agreement with the State Highway Department for the 50-50 federal aid project.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $1,245,560, of which the federal share is $526,270 and the city's $719,290.

Construction costs are estimated at $821,581 with federal participation, $193,019 for non-federal participation, and $193,458 for right-of-way acquisition with federal participation.

The 4-lane project will extend nearly one mile, joining the already completed section between 33rd and 50th.

The remaining section yet to be authorized for construction is 27th to 33rd.

Civil Rights Hiker Killed

Kenner, Ala. (UPI) — A man identified as being a civil rights advocate on a protest march from Maryland to Mississippi was shot and killed along a highway here Tuesday night.

Authorities said a body identified from papers as that of William L. Moore, was found alongside a highway in a ditch with a pistol bullet in his forehead.

Letters found in the man's pocket indicated he had left an undisclosed place in Maryland and intended walking to Jackson, Miss., to see Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett.

"It appears to be a civil rights case," coroner Noble Yokum said.

The man carried a sign draped over his shoulder advocating civil rights for all, he said.

Yokum said Moore also had copies of letters in his pockets which he had written to President Kennedy and U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy telling them of his hike.

The coroner said papers also were found that indicated the man was from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Omahans Nix Valuation Boost For University

Omaha (AP) — Omaha voters Tuesday rejected a hike from $2 to $4 per $1,000 assessed valuation of property for the support of the Municipal University of Omaha.

The vote was 20,039 against the increase and 15,770 in favor.

The increase would have raised about $1 million a year for the school.

Last February the voters had given 70.19 per cent approval to a $25 million bond issue for the public grade and high schools.

Voice From The West

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

From Seattle, Wash., came one of the most reasonable statements in behalf of the so-called strong merger public power bill heard before the Legislature's Public Works Committee this week. The strong merger plan was up in competition at the same time with another plan that would divide the central and most of the eastern part of the state into five areas, popularly known as the local development plan.

Testimony On Costs

Testifying in behalf of the strong merger bill were Consumers Public Power District, most rural power districts, the Nebraska Electric G and T and others, including Herschel F. Jones, economic consultant with H. Zinder & Associates of Seattle. "Only by designating a single agency to serve any given load," said Jones, "can Nebraska hope to achieve the lowest possible power costs." He noted that public utilities operate best as monopolies and that the complicated control and organization of the Nebraska Public Power System has been the basic cause of a majority of the state's power controversies.

These are two fundamental concepts that should be kept in mind by the committee and, if both bills reach the floor, by the Legislature. The senators should keep in mind that what they are dealing with is not just a strictly factual affair. This was evident from the fact that testimony before the committee presented points of view that were exactly opposite in many cases. Those in favor of the strong merger had one opinion as to its final effects and those favoring the area plan had an opinion exactly to the contrary.

This should tell the Legislature that it is going to be difficult if not absolutely impossible to settle the question on any precise set of facts. This leaves the senators in the position of adopting that plan which appears to have the most logic on its side, that appears to be the most reasonable in view of our experience.

How this could lead to the area development concept is hard to see. The problem in this state has always been the fact that there are a number of agencies involved in the transmission and retail distribution of power in the state. This has made many operations small and inefficient which has brought about a state of competition that has been of benefit to no one. The idea of local control may sound good but the question to be faced is what kind of system would give the people of the state the lowest possible electric rates. It has long been recognized that the utility business is basically a monopolistic business and that to operate it in any other way is to sacrifice savings and economy for a theory that really is of no benefit.

When people talk about local control, what is it they are really talking about? What is it about a large utility operation that they should fear? It is doubtful that much of a case can be made against a move toward a monopolistic situation, toward an integrated, single agency handling the transmission and distribution of power as is proposed under the strong merger plan before the Legislature. The only consideration in public power is rates, not politics. Consumers Public Power District, for instance, is already the largest electric organization in the state but we have failed to see any political activity on its part that did not bear directly on the utility situation.

Nor does the strong merger plan completely do away with the local control that is suggested in other legislation. The bill would include the provision that municipalities could, upon a favorable vote of the people, acquire their retail distribution systems in 1972 for the consideration of $1.

Some communities such as Lincoln may well want to do this but such action or desire does not invalidate the strong merger plan at this point. Such a merger would still provide the state with the most efficient and economical operation in the wholesale area of things and in the retail area where cities did not choose to acquire their systems.

Complexity Of Situation

The proposed merger plan also reserves to existing agencies the generation and irrigation rights they now enjoy, thus assuring them control over two operations that are of primary concern to them. The power situation in Nebraska has been a problem simply because of the multiplicity of agencies that have been in existence. To move toward even greater multiplicity would be to compound the problems that already exist. There is no reason to believe that these five areas could get along any more peacefully than have the many agencies in the picture today.

There would inevitably be disputes arising between them as to rates and services areas and large funds would be wasted in the settlement of these disputes. As one spokesman suggested, the Legislature would be better off to do nothing on public power than to approve of the area development idea.

Beware Second Error

The well intentioned defense stockpiling program has turned out to a national embarrassment.

Fifteen years ago the idea had strong appeal. The nation sharply remembered the shortage of critical materials in the early stages of World War II and resolved not to let it happen again.

The results of the program were unsatisfactory for a number of reasons. Some of the stockpiling acquired stores of some materials proved later to be of little use in a war bound to be fought on different terms than World War II. Injudicious buying resulted in overstockpiling of other items and in examples in which buying developed price stabilizing action more for the benefit of producers than of defense.

Now there is a movement in Congress that would process the great accumulation of raw materials into pro-fabricated items calculated to be extremely useful should the country experience nuclear damage. The argument is that raw materials would be of little use for lack of processing facilities, hence pre-processed building, power, communication and transportation items would be a saving thing. It is also argued that processing now would lighten the problem of unemployment.

This proposal has as much attraction as the original one. But the warning is that it can fall afoul of the same evils that attended the first effort. Unless the idea men behind it can come up with better safeguards than those which failed in the first instance the matter had better be shelved, lest an unhappy experience be repeated.

The Stuff Of Progress

Nebraskans have been informed of an educated guess to the effect that its 1962 per capita income has reached a record high.

It is not an impressive gain when estimated at $2,200. Firm figures for 1960 give the per capita income as $2,113 and for 1961 as $2,168.

The figures place Nebraska around 23rd among the 50 states and only slightly under the national average.

Improvement is always a source of satisfaction and comparative figures have their place. But Nebraskans should accept such comparisons with reservations. They constitute the practice of measuring one's self against one's self which is an invitation to complacency.

A better measure is to compare one's self against one's potential. That speaks better for the doctrine of growth and progress.

Nebraska has an enviable position as a cattle and livestock region. But not many months ago a state agricultural economist estimated that the livestock industry in Nebraska would require an additional $1 billion investment to bring it to its full potential. In view of that it is more to the point at this juncture to inquire whether this intervening time has encouragingly increased our outlay toward that potential.

In this area of abundant rainfall and unbridled floods it is more to the point to inquire how much headway have we made toward conserving the important resource of water, directing it into a more abundant economy.

When we examine our state university it is less important to note that the enrollment has grown some. It is more to the point to inquire whether it is being pushed to its capacity as a top flight educational institution.

Right Wingers Growing

The far right wing is a growing influence upon the American political scene, according to Wesley McCune, director of Group Research, Inc., and a former official of the Democratic National Committee. And significantly, he noted that the group will spend more in 1964 than the Democratic and Republican national committees combined.

This is not only a large amount of money but it demonstrates the fact that the far right is in the nature of a third party, even though it operates mostly through the Republican party. But it spends its money as it sees fit, not as might best serve the cause and interests of the GOP. In other words, it is using the GOP as a vehicle, mainly because it cannot yet stand on its own feet.

McCune said that the far right has created in state legislatures, Congress and the White House "a climate of doubt, controversy, distrust and conformity . . ." These are marks that should be recognized in much of what happens in Nebraska. This state definitely is not without those who sow the seeds of doubt, controversy and distrust.

At the same time, these people are seldom known to make any constructive proposals. In the end, their purpose is the protection and preservation of existing establishments, the promotion of vested interests. In this sense, they do promote a certain degree of conformity but it is conformity that many would describe more as special privilege.

Of course, those who subscribe to the right wing philosophy have every right to do so and, as an organization, they are free to solicit and spend funds as they see fit. But the average citizen should demand more from those who seek positions of leadership and trust than an indictment of existing programs and new proposals. The citizen should have a positive concern over affairs, not just a negative reaction to things.

Feed Grain Law Up For Decision

WASHINGTON — The first big farm huddle for this session of Congress comes up on Wednesday (April 24) when the House of Representatives votes on the feed grain bill.

Republicans will do their best to knock it out. The decision will rest on how many Southern Democrats join them.

The feed grain bill is a voluntary program whereby farmers may curtail barley, oats, corn and other grains fed to livestock and get a subsidy for so doing. The program is now on the law books and the vote Wednesday is whether to continue it.

Republican arguments will be that it should be postponed until after the wheat referendum in May. The administration, on the other hand, wants to get the farm program out of the way one step at a time.

☆ ☆ ☆

Many conservative Democrats are for the bill, including Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia who has cooperated in getting the bill through his powerful Rules Committee. Smith is a dairy farmer, owns five herds in northern Virginia, and dairy farmers want cheap feed grains. This bill will stabilize prices, generally keep them high. However, dairy farmers also believe the farm economy must be stabilized.

Since Orville Freeman became Secretary of Agriculture, the feed grain surplus has gradually diminished, dropping from 85,000,000 tons in 1961 to between 55,000,000 and 57,000,000 tons in 1963. Freeman predicts that with the renewal of the feed grain bill, it will drop to a normal granary of around 45,000,000 to 50,000,000 tons in another year.

Note — Such unreconstructed Democrats as William Jennings Dorn of South Carolina, Walter Baring, Nev., Jim Haley and Paul Rogers of Florida, plus Tom Murray of Tennessee are expected to vote no.

☆ ☆ ☆

Secretary of Defense McNamara has suggested privately that upper classmen at West Point, Annapolis, and the Air Force Academy should be ordered to curb their hazing of first-year men . . . the Arkansas Gazette commented with interest on the fact that Gov. Orval Faubus was found cutting underbrush along the highway "with a double-bitted axe so soon sfter the formal beheading of Highway Director F. R. Oliver." Faubus was found in the underbrush somewhat in the fashion of Moses' discovery by Pharoah's daughter . . . as far as the Arkansas Gazette is concerned, "Mr. Faubus can stay up there in the hills as long as he likes." . . . the State Department has okayed a passport to Cuba for Irving Ward-Steinman, the Alexandria, La., radio broadcaster, but the Czech embassy, which deals with Cuban affairs, has not been able to wangle an invite from El Doctor Fidel Castro.

Human Brain Works Much As Do Electronic Computers

NEW YORK—A doctor at Michigan State University holds the theory that our minds operate much as electronic computers do.

In the human brain, there are molecules which receive, store and use information.

These molecules change shape as the information is fed into the brain, and they do it with such rapid-fire speed that—according to the scientist—the average human brain makes 20 to 25 split-second decisions per second. A real all-out, working brain can make 30 decisions per second.

Dr. Leroy Augenstein, chairman of Michigan's Department of Biophysics, goes further with the theory.

He says the eye relays information to the brain in bursts. Each burst lasts only 33/1000ths of a second, and yet sends inward vast amounts of information about the outside environment. Between successive bursts there is an interval of about 250-1000ths of a second, during which the information is stored where it is temporarily available for processing by the brain's molecular "computer."

☆ ☆ ☆

This explains why an individual can recall many things about a scene he views for only a fraction of a second.

All those bursts, all those decisions, decisions, decisions.

No wonder I can't understand Dr. Augenstein's theory.

Brain's too noisy to think.

If you want to quiet the bursts and cut down on the decisions, live like the Arabs do. The non-fighting Arabs, that is.

A British author named R.-V.C. Bodley, who once wrote a book called "In Search Of Serenity," told me that he was the most serene man in the world, and this was why:

"Some years ago I just disappeared into the Sahara Desert. No one gave it much thought, except myself. There, I learned to live . . ."

Bodley had been in the King's Royal Rifle Corps (a noisy outfit) before he turned his back on civilization to spend seven years as a Nomad in the Sahara.He had had all the usual worries: Concern about social standing, love affairs, world affairs, religion, job. Most of all he worried about what most of us worry about most of the time: His future. After the rifle corps, what?

"In the desert, I learned that worry is a waste of energy. It begets ill-humor, tiredness and insomnia, leads nowhere and does nobody any good," he said.

I learned this from my Arab friends, the most placid people I'd ever met. They did not so much as allow future occurrences to enter their minds. There is not even a tense in their grammar to express it."

The Arabs, of course, have more advantage than a language which doesn't permit future planning. They live in surroundings made basiclly tranquil by nature. "It is the deserts—and the sea and the rivers and the mountains — which cause men to know themselves best."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Forces Greater Than Law At Work

WASHINGTON—While the Civil Rights Commission surely did not intend it, the commission's call for action against the State of Mississippi shows clearly the limits of the powers of the federal government.

The remedy the commission proposes to restrain the widespread lawlessness so painfully documented—withdrawal of federal funds from federal programs in Mississippi—would probably stiffen the resistance of the hard-core segregationists. And, therefore, the real losers would be the courageous men and women standing up to brutality and violence to try to achieve their fundamental rights.

Government can at great cost, as was seen in the riots at Ole Miss, enforce certain basic decisions. But the change taking place almost everywhere in the South offers the real hope of an orderly transition toward justice and equality. Almost by definition news is bad news, and this has meant that developments in startling contrast to Mississippi and Alabama are lost sight of.

The most-striking contrast is in another of the states of the Confederacy. In South Carolina a Negro student, Harvey Bernard Gantt, was admitted to Clemson College, a land-grant state-supported institution with no opposition once the courts had ruled that he was eligible. Clemson, situated on what was the plantation of the South's great statesman, John C. Calhoun, with the Calhoun house preserved on the campus, can claim a traditional background rivaling that of Ole Miss.

Under Governor Donald Russell, a protege of James F. Byrnes whose broad experience in Washington has had few parallels, South Carolina has not tried to exploit the contrast with Mississippi. But Russell and a new generation of leaders are acutely aware of the importance of education if the Southern states are to move out of the role of hewers of wood and drawers of water and become part of industrial America.

☆ ☆ ☆

The drama of change and the striking contrast with Mississippi are shown in figures compiled by the Department of Commerce. In new investment in plant and equipment South Carolina went from $75,200,000 in 1958 to $125,400,000 in 1960. While there was a slight drop the following year the total was nevertheless $107,900,000.

With a population of about the same size Mississippi in 1958 had $57,900,000. This went to $63,700,000 the following year but by 1961 it had dropped to $38,200,000.

New people coming into South Carolina—technicians, engineers with growing families—want good schools. They do not want to be caught in the middle of a violent quarrel between segregationists and integrationists, nor do the managers of industry who determine where new plants shall be located. This is what Governor Russell and the others have learned in the course of trying to move their state into the latter half of the 20th century.

There is nothing new in the commission's finding that Mississippi receives far more in federal funds than it pays out in federal taxes. This has been true in most states of the Confederacy for nearly a century.

One of the finest interpreters of the dilemma of the South, the late Thomas L. Stokes, a Georgian by birth, frequently pointed out the relationship between a deep-seated sense of inequity and the demagoguery of the bloody shirt. A strong Southern conviction was that the North was mining out the soil and other resources of the South and returning only a small slice of the profits from northern manufacturers. Tapping the federal government—for rivers and harbors in a simpler day—was one way to try to even up the score.

In the terrible years of the Civil War the educational system of the South was destroyed. It was not until 1900 really that a beginning was made at building it back. An awareness of this handicap has spurred leaders in both South and North Carolina and elsewhere to concentrate on improving education at every level.

Certainly the pace is too slow and the fierce quarrel over integration has cut across the urgent need for growth and change. But the pace of change is too slow in the Northern cities where Negroes remain crowded into slum areas with only a limited opportunity to break out. With a growing sense of frustration and even hatred, these slums are the breeding ground for crime and delinquency, with in some instances a virtual breakdown of law and order.

The Civil Rights Commission pointed out that the National Aeronautics and Space Agency is putting a $400,000,000 moon rocket engine test center in Pearl River and Hancock counties in Mississippi. NASA justifies this for reasons of transportation and other details of operation. It will mean a large influx of engineers and scientists who may help to change the climate of the state. But for the long pull government alone cannot work the transformation.

Value Of Dove

Geneva, Neb.

The food of the mourning dove is practically all vegetable matter (over 99 per cent), principally seeds of plants, including grain. Wheat, oats, rye, corn, barley and buckwheat were found in 150 out of 237 stomachs, and constituted 32 per cent of the food. Three-fourths of this was waste grain picked up after harvest. The principal and almost constant diet is weed seeds, which are eaten throughout the year and constitute 64 per cent of the entire food. In one stomach were found 7,500 seeds of yellow woodsorrel, in another 6,400 seeds of barn grass or foxtail, and in a third 2,300 seeds of slender pas-palum, 4,820 of orange hawkweed, 950 of hoary vervain, 120 of Carolina cranesbill, 50 of yellow woodsorrel, 620 of panic grass, and 40 of various other weeds. None of these is useful and most of them are troublesome weeds.

The dove does not eat insects or other animal food. It should be protected in every possible way.

The Conqueror

He struts with an expanded chest
His heart quite visibly is stirred
With mighty pride, for in his hand
He bears a small and lifeless bird

What skill, what power on his part
To bear with pomp this gorgeous dead,
This bird that rose with quailing heart
On wings too slow for flying lead.

Need To Vote

Lincoln, Neb.

Very shortly Lincoln voters, if they vote, will be selecting their city officials for the next four years. Four years could be a long time, if the selections are not in the best interests of all the people of Lincoln and not just for the entrenched plutocracies.

Insofar as the average citizen is concerned, the local city government directly decides the amount of taxes to be paid and determines many other policies of continuing concern to our daily routines. So if we don't vote, we indicate a neutrality or indifference toward local administration of city activities.

Fund-Raising

Lincoln, Neb.

I have read Mrs. H. A. Dougherty's letter in The Star on April 19 and wish to take issue with some of the statements and inferences made.

I resent any inference that anyone is making any "gravy" from our fund drive and although I am not intimately familiar with other national voluntary health agencies, I doubt that any can be found that are not above reproach as far as expenditure of funds collected.

As to "high paid executives," the only one we have is a part-time executive secretary who maintains one room of her home as an office and received last year a grand total of $1,500 as salary and office expenses. We have never had a "lavish kick-off dinner" and as yet have never spent one dime recruiting help for our fund drive. The last three years the sororities and fraternities have furnished the manpower.

Our books and records are audited yearly by one of the most respected accounting firms in Lincoln and are open to inspection to anyone at any time.

To my knowledge, there has never been a method devised that can collect as much in one drive for several agencies as each one can collect in individual drives. If only one drive is conducted, the health education of the general public, accomplished as an added bonus in individual drives, is lost.

Money expended locally for patient care is fine and necessary, but in my opinion, the 40% of our funds sent to national headquarters to be used for research and fellowship grants are by far the most important. We must find the cause and cure of multiple sclerosis, heart disease, cancer, etc.

As to "tear-jerking advertising" and other campaign expenses, we expended last year a total of $439.21 for printing, supplies, postage and advertising. Through this, we raised a total of $9,576.10.

The complaints people make about the frequency of fund drives fall on deaf ears, as far as I am concerned, because the money raised is insignificant compared to what we spend on entertainment, liquor, cigarettes and cosmetics.

I did not read the magazine article referred to and would like to. It is not unknown for an article to be published for the number of copies it will sell.

I believe each of us who is fortunate enough to enjoy good health owes some of our time, talent and finances to those who have been afflicted.

Higher And Higher

Milligan, Neb.

An increase in property valuation with a continuing rise of the state mill levy in personal and real estate taxes has more than doubled my state tax within the past 10 years. As far as I know, there is no mill levy limit on tax property in the state. This talk that an income tax will raise taxes is all poppycock. Taxes will go higher and higher whether they are income or property taxes.

However, under the present tax assessment, there is one disparity; the owner of a tax-assessed business and business property with an income equivalent to that of the salaried worker is penalized because of the ownership of this tax-assessed property.

It may be said that the salaried worker pays taxes on his home, but the business man also owns a home.

Postal Office Clamps Down

Washington (AP) — Taking drastic steps to match congressional budget cuts, the Post Office Department clamped down Tuesday on new hirings and overtime pay in its 68 biggest offices and told them to curtail their service if necessary.

There was a hint that the restrictions may extend later into other communities. But the order would be wiped out if Congress relents and gives postmaster General J. Edward Day the money he says is needed to keep his department at full steam.

Congressional reaction was mixed. Some members said the department had no choice and should get more money. Others said economies should be found elsewhere than cutting down service.

House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said Day's department is "trying to blackjack Congress." And Rep. Ben F. Jensen of Iowa, senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, said "they would have hollered if we had cut them only $5."

Asst. Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen, chief of the department's Bureau of Operations, notified the postmasters of the order in a telegram saying:

"Initially these restrictions will be limited in application to the 68 largest post offices."

The postmasters were told to take two immediate steps: (1) not hire any new employes, (2) limit overtime in any future accounting period to the amount paid out during the 4-week period that ended last March 29.

Cut Down Service

As Day had told Congress earlier, Belen said the personnel pinch may make it necessary to cut down on service to postal customers. The first action, where "absolutely necessary," will be to halt plans for extending mail delivery to new office buildings and housing developments not now served, Belen told the postmasters.

He instructed them to inform him if the overtime and new hiring restrictions result in any curtailment of service.

Day mentioned as additional cutbacks which may be necessary the elimination of Saturday mail deliveries and a shutdown of the parcel post service.

The House trimmed $92 million from the $4.9-billion spending program proposed for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, and chopped $8.3 million from a $166.8-million supplemental appropriation designed to enable the department to make ends meet in the current year that ends June 30.

COMMISSION STUDYING BEATRICE BEER LICENSE BID

The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission Tuesday took under consideration an application by Henry's Bowl Inc. of Beatrice for an on and off sale beer license following a two hour hearing.

The bowling alley contracted to purchase the beer business of Ora McCown contingent on the commission approval of the transfer to a new location.

The Beatrice City Council is opposing the transfer on the basis of a policy established in 1938 limiting the number of licenses and opposing license transfers from the downtown area.

McCown's tavern is located at 118 So. 5th St. in downtown Beatrice, while the bowling alley is 1½ miles away.

Henry Johnson, manager and part owner of Henry's Bowl, told the commission he is seeking the license "as a courtesy," not to go into the beer business.

The president of the Beatrice Bowling Association, Vernon Mulig, testified that he has checked with bowlers who use Henry's and feels most would like to buy beer there.

Beatrice Mayor William W. Cook Sr. acknowledged the bowling alley was "a very fine place" but said that to grant another license outside downtown Beatrice would create a law enforcement problem.

Rain Fails To Halt Threat Of Fire

By The Associated Press

Rain dampened the drought-stricken East Tuesday. But the danger of further brush and forest fires remained high in many areas.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York inspected fire-ravaged sections of Staten Island by helicopter and car for two hours and described the scene as a "real tragedy."

The Small Business Administration declared the island and 4 counties in New Jersey disaster areas, making individuals and others eligible for emergency loans. The New Jersey counties were Ocean, Hudson, Atlantic and Burlington.

Property damage from brush fires that broke out Saturday and lasted through Monday is estimated at $2 million. More than 116 buildings on the island were destroyed. Hundreds were left homeless.

Rain, mixed with snow in some cases, fell over wide areas along the eastern seaboard. Most of the precipitation consisted of showers, and provided no major relief to parched woodlands.

Fires still burned in sections of New Jersey where Acting Gov. William E. Ozzard has declared a state of fire emergency.

"The rain we've gotten so far has slowed up the fires for a while Tuesday morning, but as soon as the wind comes up we're going to have trouble again," said State Fire Warden R. Wesley Davis of New Jersey.

Losses from forest and industrial fires since Saturday are estimated at $20 million in New Jersey.

In Upstate New York, however, a mixture of rain and snow substantially reduced fire threats in much of that area, the New York Conservative Department said...

A wind-driven blaze in Miles Standish State Forest in Massachusetts forced 400 firefighters to battle 5 hours Monday before bringing it under control.

King: Assassination Occupation Hazard

Amman, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein Tuesday described assassination as an occupational hazard among monarchs and vowed never to quit the fight to preserve Jordan, menaced by hostile Arab neighbors.

Smiling and appearing confident, the 27-year-old king spoke to reporters a few hours after police with clubs dispersed a student demonstration that echoed the pro-Nasser disorders of last weekend.

The demonstrators, a small crowd of high school students, shouted "go away boss" and called on Jordan to join "one Arab nation, one Arab army."

Set Demonstrations

Students set off several more demonstrations — one near the American Embassy —later in the day, and shooting was heard as police apparently fired into the air to disperse the crowds.

Two persons were reported injured slightly in the latest outbursts. Casualties since demonstrations began Saturday were estimated at 10 dead and 60 wounded. Ten parliament members were reported in jail or under house arrest.

However, Jerusalem was returning to normal, and Hussein's younger brother, Prince Mohammed, told newsmen that the king had assured him "everything will be all right."

Said 'Organized'

Hussein, flanked by his newly appointed premier, Sharif Hussein Ibn Nasser, charged demonstrations Saturday were "an organized affair" aimed at destroying Jordan. The demonstrators had demanded an end to the monarchy and a union of Jordan with Iraq, Syria and Egypt in the new United Arab Republic.

Hussein said he intended to serve Jordan "whether I am a king or an ordinary person." He recalled a statement he made several weeks ago that he would be willing to abdicate to help Arab union.

He told the news conference that he was ready "if ever I was an obstructionist . . . to carry out any sacrifice." But he added:

"Let me make it clear. I am no quitter. I feel stronger than ever."

Solons Move To Overhaul War Claims

Washington (UPI) — Congress moved quickly Tuesday to overhaul the $73 million Philippine War Claims Act with provisions that would bar unduly large fees for Washington lobbyists.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved the change in the original bill passed last year and shot the new version to a Senate appropriations subcommittee for inclusion in a House-passed money measure.

The action followed disclosure last week that Washington lobbyist John A. O'Donnell stood to reap fat fees from the present law and had made 1960 campaign contributions to more than 20 members of Congress.

The new bill drafted by the Foreign Relations Committee would freeze out O'Donnell.

Santa Fe Strike Barred By Court

Chicago (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was restrained by a federal court Tuesday from striking at 6 a.m. Wednesday against the Santa Fe Railroad.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court issued a temporary retraining order that halted the strike call, then set Monday for hearing on a temporary injunction.

The union and the carrier have had numerous discussions over revisions the BRT wants in work rules. The proposals were first made to the road in 1956.

BURIAL SET FOR BEN-ZVI

Jerusalem (AP) — President Izhak Ben-Zvi will be buried Wednesday in a Judean Hill cemetery. He was eulogized by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion Tuesday as "one of the most modest men among us."

Ben-Zvi died at 7:05 a.m. at his home, the victim of cancer at the age of 78.

Through much of the day, members of parliament and plain citizens filed through the president's house past the simple wooden coffin. The coffin was covered with a blue and white state flag.

Largest Polaris Firing Sub Lafayette Joins U.S. Navy

Groton, Conn. (AP) — The Lafayette, the world's largest and heaviest known Polaris firing submarine, joined Uncle Sam's Navy Tuesday. She became American's 28th operational nuclear vessel.

The commissioning ceremonies were held in a steady drizzle, a day almost identical with the one nearly a year ago when Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President, christened her. Lafayette is a 7,000-ton, 425-foot submarine.

(The Triton, a 447-foot nuclear-attack vessel, is the world's largest known submarine. She was commissioned in 1959.)

Vice. Adm. Charles D. Griffin, the principla speaker, declared that Russia was finally becoming keenly aware of the predominantly maritime nature of global geography."

The admiral, deputy chief of naval operations for fleet operations and readiness, said that by effective use of seapower, a nation can operate over about 70% of the earth without encroaching on the sovereignty of any nation.

About Russia, he said:

"As she continues to learn this lesson, our tasks intensify and the importance of seapower and a strong navy becomes even more meaningful."

The Lafayette is the first of a class of submarines designed to fire a 2,500-mile Polaris missile.

FUTURE U.S. ASTRONAUTS MAY RECEIVE BOOST BY 'MONSTERS'

Dallas (AP) — Future American astronauts may soar to the planets atop rockets more than 50 stories tall and weighing up to 40 million pounds.

Generating as much as 50 million pounds of thrust, these monster rockets would be capable of hurling 500-ton payloads into orbit or propelling 100-ton spacecraft toward Mars or Venus.

The Atlas used in present U.S. man-in-space flights is 80 feet tall, weighs 130,000 pounds, generates 360,000 pounds of thrust, and can boost only two tons into orbit.

Plans for developing rockets to push American exploration of space were discussed at a manned space flight conference here Tuesday by John W. Stone, launch vehicles advanced studies manager for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Teacher Pay 'Index Ratio' Asked Again

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln school teachers — for the 6th time — formally presented their request for a "index ratio" to their salary scale to the Lincoln School Board Tuesday.

Under the index ratio system presented by the Lincoln Education Assn. for the teachers, salary increases would shift from the present "across the board" raises now negotiated yearly to raises according to experience and training on a scaled basis, with teachers with 12 years of teaching (12th step on the index scale) receiving approximate 1½ times the dollar amount raise authorized for the first year (Step 1) teacher.

Dollar amounts involved in the adoption of the schedule, or a proposal for an increase in the basic teacher salary were not included in the presentation. The board took no action.

Superintendent of Schools Steven Watkins reported that financial data on the cost of the index — based on the present salary schedule, and on $100, $200, and $300 increases in base pay — Will be "available within a week."

14 Salary Steps

The LEA proposal included an index for the present 14 salary steps, equal to 14 years of teaching experience and a B.A. degree, ranging from 1.00 for a Step 1 teacher with a B.A. degree to 1.585 for a Step 14 teacher. In addition, 20-year step was added at 1.630.

Translated into dollar amounts based on the present salary base of $4,400 for a beginning teacher with a B.A. degree, the Step 1 salary would stay at $4,400, and increases would range up to an annual salary of $6,974 for Step 14, compared to the present $6,800. The new 20-year step salary would be $7,172.

For teachers with M.A. degrees, the beginning Step 1 salary would start at 1.08 of the base $4,400 or $4,752 instread of the present $4,700, and range up to $7,832 for Step 15 in comparison with the present $7,300. Two additional steps added to the M.A. schedule in the LEA proposal would bring an $8,050 salary for 20-year service and $8,272 for 25-year service.

Index schedules were also proposed to cover co-ordinators, directors, principals, assistant principals, and deans. If adopted the index ratio would encompass all public schools professional employes outside of the office of school superintendent and assistants to the superintendent.

Little discussion was held at the Tuesday meeting. Board members had met with members of the LEA in informal discussion of the index schedule last week.

Also submitted to the school board Tuesday was a request from the Lincoln Public Schools Clerical ssn. for an increase in clerical salaries "comparable percentagewise to the Lincoln teachers." They noted the advance in living costs, the work load increase due to increased enrollment at schools, and the prospective tax increase due to the passage of the school bond issue as reasons for the salary increase.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING . . . of proposed McPhee School.

McPhee School To Cost $775,000

Preliminary drawings for the proposed Clare McPhee Laboratory School to be built on the present Capitol School grounds were approved by the Board of Education Tuesday.

Architect Selmer Solheim said the estimated cost of the L-shaped structure is $775,000, which includes air conditioning, closed circuit TV hookups, observation rooms and speaker systems for student teachers.

The school will be used jointly by the public schools and the University of Nebraska Teachers College, with the NU Board of Regents expected to authorize $270,000 for the joint facility.

Plans are to build the new school at the corner of 15th and G, while the Capitol School remains in operation. At its completion, Capitol will be torn down and Bancroft School — the present NU laboratory school — Will be closed down.

The architect explained that the additional features, plus larger-sized classrooms brought the building cost above similar 2-unit schools. Brownell School cost $358,896 and Ruth Pyrtle School costs will be $432,215.

Sen. Foster, Wife Will Teach Here

State Sen. Clifton Foster of Bradshaw will teach mathematics at Lincoln Northeast High School next fall, and his wife, Marilyn, will teach home economics and guidance classes.

The Lincoln Board of Education approved one-year contracts for the couple Tuesday.

Foster, 29, represents the 24th Legislative District of York and Seward Counties. He said he will move his legal residence to Seward this summer and commute to Lincoln from there for teaching.

Schools Asked To Approve Banking Facility On Winthrop

The Lincoln Board of Education deferred action Tuesday on recommending approval or disapproval of a proposed banking facility on Winthrop Road in the Rathbone Village shopping center.

The proposed site, owned by Leon Adelson with the First National Bank as trustee, is immediately south of Leon's Food Mart and across the street from the Sheridan School grounds.

A spokesman for First National asked the board not to oppose a zoning change for the proposed site from residential to local business when the matter is brought before the Planning Commission.

Two lots would be utilized to build a 30-by-30 ft. brick building to be used for "financial and investment business," the board was told.

Schools Supterintendent Steven Watkins noted that in the past the board has always opposed commercial development within 525 feet of schools.

The board members asked for further assurances that the proposed building would be the last one along the east side of Winthrop at that location.

Older Teacher Use Asked Of Board

Lincoln School Board members were urged in a letter from the Lincoln Education Assn. to revise teacher retirement policies to remove the compulsory retirement age of 65.

Ely Feistner, executive secretary, noted the increasing need for trained personnel and suggested that older personnel could be retained on a yearly basis, without tenure, and be required to take yearly physical examinations and secure individual recommendations from their superiors.

He asked the board to take "immediate action on this request in order that those retiring this year can make formal application for assignment this coming year."

'All-City' Parade For Christmas Set

Lincolnites can look forward to a Dec. 2 parade ushering in the Christmas season with floats, large balloon figures, and at least 3 Lincoln high school bands.

The Lincoln School Board voted Tuesday to allow the marching bands from Lincoln High, Northeast and Southeast to participate in the evening event after assuring themselves that it would be an "all-city" function sponsored by the Lincoln Promotion Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

The parade plan was originally sponsored by Gold's of Nebraska.

The chamber representatives appearing before the board described the Christmas parade as "similar to those put on by Macy's and Gimbel's" and "one of the few to be presented in the Midwest."

Plans call for the marchers to start about 7 p.m. from Pershing Auditorium, go west on O to 9th and back to the auditorium on N.

85 Seniors At University Cited For Superior Scholarship

Eighty-five University of Nebraska seniors were cited for superior scholarship and another 650 students for high scholarship at the University's 35th annual Honors Convocation Tuesday.

The honors convocation heard J. Lee Rankin, former Nebraskan now a New York attorney, say he failed to see why the state became disturbed by Presidential aid Ted Sorensen's "jibe" that the state was losing its ablest youth.

Rankin, a former U.S. solicitor general, said the "only occasion for genuine concern" would be "if other states and nations failed to see and attract Nebraska's youth."

Educational policies, Rankin said, "should be directed toward developing in the student an understanding and wisdom that will have universal currency."

Such an approach, he said, will provide the state "with a fair share of those so prepared who will remain and strengthen the life of the community." He added that those who leave also will make their contributions to the stature of the state.

Bill Proposing Vote On Partisan Unicameral Buried 34-8

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Legislation proposing a vote of the people on a constitutional amendment to create a partisan Unicameral was buried Tuesday on a 34-8 count.

The measure, LB112, had been killed by a 5-2 vote of the Legislature's Government and Military Affairs Committee in a reversal of its earlier 4-3 decision to advance the bill to the floor.

Tuesday's battle was joined upon Sen. Michael Russillo's motion to revive.

Fifteen lawmakers spoke against the motion—and only Sens. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, George Fleming of Sidney, Clifton Foster of Bradshaw, Sam Klaver of Omaha, Don McGinley of Ogallala, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, and Russillo voted to place the bill on general file.

Absent and not voting was Sen. H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove.

Russillo argued that "it is time to give the citizens an opportunity to express their views on the non-partisan system" adopted along with the Unicameral in 1937.

The Legislature, Russillo said, should be "the breeding grounds for political leadership" in Nebraska. A partisan system, he declared, would help develop leadership and "avoid sectionalism."

Produced Leaders

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington said the Unicameral has produced 3 recent governors, the late Victor Anderson, Robert Crosby and Dwight Burney, and a number of other recognized leaders, including Fred Seaton.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City contended that a partisan system would "tend to create political machines" and result in bloc voting.

"I don't want a block captain telling me what to do," Sen. William Skarda of Omaha said.

Sen. Peter Claussen of Leigh, who served in the partisan bicameral system in 1935, told lawmakers that "this system is much superior."

If the Legislature is changed to a partisan body, Sen. Don Thompson of McCook insisted, then it must be changed to a bicameral system.

"Are we afraid to trust the people to say what is best for them?" Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha asked.

McGinley argued that the non-partisan system has "emasculated the partisan political framework in Nebraska," creating "a lack of incentive" for citizen participation in political affairs.

Foster contended that the state exhibited more progress under the old partisan system.

When the final vote was announced, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff urged that "an engrossed report" be mailed to Republican State Chairman Robert Denney.

Denney has urged enactment of the bill, and was critical of the Government Committee's action in killing it.

Solons Revive Osteopaths Bill

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday voted 25-14 to revive a bill providing procedures whereby osteopaths may qualify to be licensed to practice medicine and surgery in Nebraska.

The measure, LB665, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, had been killed by a 4-3 vote of the Public Health Committee.

Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, who supported Carpenter's motion to override the committee's action, told the Legislature he will offer amendments "which, I think, will satisfy most of the MD's" who had opposed the bill.

The proposed legislation provides that any person who is eligible to take the examination in the science and practice of osteopathy and who is a graduate of an approved school of osteopathy is eligible to take the examination to practice medicine and surgery.

The schools of osteopathy would need approval by the Department of Health upon recommendation of the board of examiners in medicine and surgery.

Examinations for osteopaths who apply to practice medicine and surgery would be conducted by the board, composed of 5 medical doctors and one osteopath.

"Can anyone imagine 5 doctors giving an osteopath a license if he can't pass the examination?" Carpenter asked.

The exam, he noted, would be "the same one taken by doctors."

LB665, Carpenter said, marks "a gradual step in the recognition of osteopaths." Unlike statutes in 39 other states, the bill does not authorize "unlimited practice," he said.

Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala also supported the motion to revive, suggesting that the bill might "help to heal the wound" between members of the State Medical Assn., and osteopaths.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, chairman of the committee which axed the bill, asked lawmakers to consider the measure in terms of "what kind of a chance, what risks do you want to take."

Vote on the motion to revive:

For: Bahensky, Brandt, Burbach, Carpenter, Claussen, Damrow, Danner, Erlewine, Fleming, Forrester, Gerdes, Hasebroock, Kremer, Lysinger, Mahoney, McGinley, Orme, Gottschalk, E. Rasmussen, R. Rasmussen, Reeves, Ruhnke, Skarda, Stalder, Stromer.

Against: Adamson, Bowen, Bridenbaugh, Craft, Kjar, Klaver, Marvel, Moulton, Payne, Russillo, Stryker, Syas, Thompson, Wylie.

Not voting: Gerhart, Foster, Nelson, Warner.

Bill Is Hit By President Of Medical Assn.

Hastings, Neb. (UPI)—Passage of the osteopath bill in its present or foreseeable forms will amount to a "terrific travesty of justice" for Nebraskans, the president of the Nebraska State Medical Association said.

"This bill is an attempt to legislate medical care when the proper foundation should be training, inspection, meeting minimum standards, and taking examinations," said Dr. O. A. Kostal.

Kostal spoke for the 1,200-member association in forecasting defeat for the Carpenter bill.

"From what we know they revived the bill to add an amendment. We don't know what that amendment is. And until we do I certainly do not see the bill passing."

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday:

LB783 (Public Health Committee) — Waiving the requirement that elections be held before communities participate with the federal government in the issuance of bonds for low cost housing for elderly persons. The election requirement would be retained only in Omaha and Lincoln.

Shelter Owners Bill Passed

Owners of property used as public Civil Defense shelter become immune to liability for death or injury occurring to occupants of the shelter during a Civil Defense emergency under a bill passed by the Nebraska Legislature Tuesday.

Forwarded to the governor for signature on a 41-0 vote was LB239, introduced by Sens. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City and H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove.

The measure was one of 6 passed Tuesday. The list (E—emergency clause):

LB365 (Stalder)—Making 40 days residency the requirement for voting in second class cities and villages, to conform with requirement in larger cities (E). (38-0).

LB239 (Bridenbaugh, Gerhart)—Granting owners of licensed civil defense shelters immunity from liability for death or personal injury to users of the shelters in a Civil Defense emergency. (41-0).

LB554 (Carpenter, Mahoney)—Providing a procedure for appeals from tax assessments or penalties applied by the county assessor. (E). (41-0).

LB630 (Ruhnke)—Setting a registration fee of $10 on cabin trailers with gross weight of more than 2,000 pounds, and $1 per 1,000 pounds or fraction thereof for lighter trailers. (38-3).

LB614 (Bowen, Stromer, Warner)—Providing for regulation of the securities of stock insurance companies and making blue sky laws applicable. (E). (41-0).

LB284 (Judiciary)—Providing for appeals to the district court by persons adversely affected by school districting changes made by the county superintendent. (40-0).

State Closer To More Medical Service—Zuspan

Grand Island, Neb. (UPI)—Nebraska is a step closer to expansion of qualified medical service for its citizens, Dr. Newell Zuspan of Grand Island, president of the Nebraska Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, said Tuesday.

Zuspan commended the Nebraska Legislature, which Tuesday advanced to the floor for the first time in 20 years, a bill, LB665, to allow qualified osteopaths to take the state medical examination.

Thirty-nine other states now allow osteopaths to take the medical examination and if they pass, are admitted to full practice, Zuspan said.

Zuspan said the entrance of doctors of osteopathic medicine and surgery into full practice in Nebraska will open new horizons in medicine for the small town of Nebraska.

"For 20 years," Zuspan said, "the restrictive Nebraska law has not allowed a single new osteopath to come to Nebraska and our ranks now number only 52 while in 39 other states the practice is fully recognized and flourishing."

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
NATIONAL CHIROPRACTIC ASSOCIATION

Chiropractic As a Career Described

Chiropractic as a professional career is fully, concisely, and attractively described in a handsome 24-page booklet, beautifully illustrated with graphs and photographs, published by the Council on Education National Chiropractic Association.

Prepared For Guidance of Students

The booklet was prepared primarily for the guidance of students who have completed high school or two years of college. There are 15 photographs and drawings to supplement the clear and simple language of the text.

Chiropractic Profession Not Crowded

Chiropractic is the least crowded of all professions. Statistics are quoted to show that in the U. S. there is but one chiropractor to every 8,000 people, and in Canada one to every 18,500 people.

Women comprise 18 per cent of the 25,000 practicing chiropractors. Women are admitted to all chiropractic colleges which teach a standard academic course of four years, totalling 4480 class hours.

Copies of the booklet, "Chiropractic ... A Career," may be obtained from the Department of Education, National Chiropractic Association, Webster City, Iowa, on request.

Coed Is Bride-Elect

Of particular interest to campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer A. Odden of Fremont, of the engagement of their daughter, Connie Jean, to William Franklin Braun, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Braun of McCook.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Aug. 24.

Miss Odden attended Katherine Gibbs School, Montclair, N.J., and now is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

Mr. Braun, who attended Denver University, is a senior at the University of Nebraska. His fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Dear Abby

Decision Was Right

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 47 and should have more sense. I've been married 18 years to a man who doesn't drink or chase and he is good to me. We have a teen-ager who is a joy to both of us. My husband is quiet and reserved, and I am just the opposite, but we get along fine. I didn't love him when I married him but I wanted a home and family. I met a man at work recently and we were immediately attracted to each other. Before I knew it we were up to our ears in an affair. He wanted to marry me, and I became an emotional wreck trying to make up my mind. Finally I told him I couldn't hurt my husband and child, so we broke it off. Within a week he had someone else. Since then I've spent my nights regretting my decision. Was I wrong? Will time heal the scars, or must I learn to live with my mistake?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: Your biggest mistake was getting involved with him in the first place. Your decision was right! When he found a replacement for your "love" in a week, you surely must have realized the shallowness of his feelings for you. That realization AND time should heal your "scars"—and soon.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have been dating this boy, 21, for three months. At first my parents permitted me to see him twice a week, but they have limited me to once a week because they thought we were getting too serious. Are they right in doing this? Please don't say parents know best because they don't always. Isn't it only logical for teen-agers to try to make the most of what time they have together when they are limited? I would like your opinion.

LIMITED

DEAR LIMITED: Romance progresses a little with each meeting. The more time you spend together, the more serious the romance becomes. Your parents know more about this than you do. Take their word for it. And by the way, a 21-year-old is a MAN, not a boy.

Guests, Travelers In Suburban News

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

Those soft breezes that usually accompany balmy spring days have taken an abrupt turn—much to the dismay of Suburban residents. The freshly raked lawns are once again embedded in leaves and all of the so-carefully-sown grass seed is growing beautifully—next door of course.

But despite the weather, activity in Suburbia is swirling with convention trips, travels, and guests.

And the PTA convention held in Alliance was the highlight of Mrs. George Stolzenberg's spring vacation. Mrs. Stolzenberg, and 15 other PTA members from Lincoln, boarded a chartered bus last Wednesday and spent three educational and enjoyable days in Alliance with approximately 389 delegates from throughout the state.

Independence, Mo. was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allin and their children, Leslie, David, and Mark, spent a Friday-to-Monday vacation with Mrs. Allin's mother, Mrs. P. A. Hudler.

Easter was the reason for considerable activity at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Killion.

Arriving from Big Springs for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Killion's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Killion and their children, Paul III, Phil, Pamela, Patti, and Polly. Also joining in on the Easter festivities were two other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Killion, and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Killion and their children, Linda and Mark of Gretna, and Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Killion.

Mr. and Mrs. Killion are also entertaining another family member, Mrs. Killions' mother, Mrs. Mae Worcester of Hill City, Kan., who arrived for Easter and is spending several days at the Killion household.

COTNER TERRACE

Those spring day jaunts are still popular in Suburbia—especially in Cotner Terrace.

Motoring to Burr recently were Mr. and Mrs. Leland W. Ward and their daughter Patti, who spent an evening visiting Mrs. Ward's mother, Mrs. E. McGaugh.

During the spring vacation, Mr. Ward, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Ray Buchanan, went to Superior to visit Mr. Ward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Ward and also to do a little outdoor camping at Harlan Dam.

And joining the parade of travelers were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Green and their children, Kenneth, Gary and Jimmy who motored to York recently to visit with Mrs. Green's mother and brother, Mrs. Mabel Churchill and Clarence Churchill.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

Sunday, April 21, was a special day for Miss Sandra Crowns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crowns, who took her first communion at Holy Family church.

In the afternoon the Crowns celebrated with a tea in Sandra's honor. Helping Sandra celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Munn and their daughter, Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Krough and their children, Vicky and Gary.

Crete was the Easter Day rendezvous point for Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mowrey and their family. Joining these Kimballcrest residents for dinner in Crete were their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mowrey and Danette, and Mr. Mowrey's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Finnigan.

Poulet, Mesdames?

The last in a series of foreign cookery luncheons was held at the Havelock YWCA on Tuesday afternoon when the group of class members were appreciative "guests" at a French meal.

Mrs. Charles Shell, program director for the Havelock YW, watches as Mrs. William E. Hall, chef-for-the-day, adds the finishing touches to the menu which included tossed green salad, French green beans cooked with almonds, buttered French bread, and "Poulet Saute Marengo", which is French for chicken served with a sauce combining tomatoes, mushrooms, onions and other tasty ingredients. A fresh fruit cup topped off the meal.

The series will resume next fall with a variety of foreign dishes prepared by guest experts. Registration must be made for the series which is limited to 35 class members.

Jury Acquits City Manager

. . . OF NEWBURGH, N.Y.

New York (AP) — Joseph Mitchell was acquitted of bribery charges Tuesday, as a jury cleared the way for the nationally known welfare critic to resume his controversial political career as city manager of Upstate Newburgh.

It took the state supreme court jury 28 hours to break a deadlock and acquit Mitchell, 44, and his co-defendant, Lawrence de Masi, 42, a New Jersey real estate dealer.

"I am the city manager," Mitchell told newsmen in announcing that he will take back the job he voluntarily surrendered after his indictment. The balding, stocky defendant was solemn as he shook hands with the jurors after their verdict.

Shakedown

Mitchell and De Masi were accused in a month-long trial of arranging a $20,000 shakedown of two brothers in a Newburgh rezoning deal. The bribery charges carried maximum penalties of 20 years each in prison upon conviction.

However, De Masi immediately was rearrested outside the courtroom by detectives from the district attorney's office. He was charged with grand larceny, based on the state's contention that he actually accepted the payoff in a New York hotel room. The new accusation did not involve Mitchell.

The jury of 11 men and one woman twice Monday reported itself deadlocked and unable to agree. Each time, Justice Joseph A. Sarafite ordered the panel to try again. Even Mitchell began to admit the possibility of a hung jury.

The case went to the jury at 12:07 p.m. Monday.

Suspended

Mitchell voluntarily suspended himself from his $15,700-per-year city manager's post after his arrest Dec. 7.

The Newburgh City Council failed to support a move by Democratic Newburgh Mayor William D. Ryan to fire Mitchell "regardless of the outcome of the trial."

The 5-man council in the Hudson River Valley community of 31,000 is Republican.

In 1961, Mitchell drew national attention for what he labeled a crackdown against chiselers on Newburgh's public welfare rolls. Although his program was tossed out by the courts, it put him in the limelight as a promising young conservative Republican, much in demand on the lecture circuit.

$10,000 Gift Left To St. Elizabeth

A cash gift of $10,000 to St. Elizabeth Hospital from the estate of Dr. Delbert J. Bowman was announced at a hospital staff medical meeting Tuesday evening.

Dr. Bowman, for many years an active member of the St. Elizabeth medical staff, died in 1955 following retirement in 1952. His widow, Mrs. Nettie Bowman, died in 1962.

Dr. Bowman was graduated in 1911 from the Lincoln Medical College and practiced in Raymond until 1914. He practiced in Lincoln from 1911 to 1952.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

Opening lead — six of hearts.

There is no use trying to perform the impossible in bridge, which is what South attempted to do in this hand.

The bidding was certainly reasonable. South overcalled with a spade and then raised two diamonds to three. North showed his spade support by bidding three spades, and South naturally went to four.

West led a heart. East took the ace and returned a heart which West ruffed. West then played a club.

Declarer won with the ace, cashed the king of spades, and led the jack, East covering with the queen and West showing out.

South had lost two heart tricks and now also had a trump trick to lose. In an effort to escape the club loser, he cashed the K-Q of diamonds and played a diamond to the ten, hoping East would follow suit, in which case he would be able to discard a club on the next diamond lead.

But East ruffed and South eventually had to concede a club trick to go down one.

Obviously, South failed to realize that this method of play was sure to fail. If he had thought the matter over, he would have known he was attempting the impossible.

East had shown up with a seven-card heart suit — conclusively proved when West ruffed a heart at trick two. East was also known to have started with three spades — neither more nor less. Furthermore, East had followed suit (with the king) when West returned a club at trick three.

Eleven of East's cards in three suits were thus accounted for early in the play, and it therefore became impossible for East to have more than two cards in the fourth suit, diamonds.

South should therefore have led a spade at trick six and given East his trump trick then and there. If he had done this, he would have made the contract. He should have played for what was possible — that East had a singleton club; not for what was impossible — that East had three diamonds.

Airport Job Bid By Behlen Co. Accepted

The Airport Authority Tuesday accepted Behlen Manufacturing Company's low bid of $213,289 for basic construction of a 150-by-150-foot maintenance-storage hangar at the Lincoln Municipal Airport.

However, Executive Director Rolland Harr was directed to negotiate with the Columbus firm regarding radiant heat, the second floor on the hangar's lean-to and rear doors for final action at the May 14 meeting.

All bids for the multiple T-hangars and relocation of the existing 36 hangars at Union Airport to the Municipal Airport were rejected and the authority called for new bid proposals on May 14.

Chairman Leo Beck Jr. said the authority "can save money by being more specific on hangar dimensions and quality."

He indicated a more standard-type hangar configuration will be specified and said "we think more people will bid."

The new hangar specifications will include overhead doors and a design option for either 7 or 10 units.

Apparent low bids rejected were Lamphere Building Service, Lincoln, $106,571 for 30 T-hangars, and Behlen, $69,676 for relocating existing T-hangars.

In other action, the authority called for bids on May 23 for the Federal Aviation Agency General Aviation Building at the airport.

The 21,737 square-foot building is estimated to cost $313,184. Architect Selmer Solheim said approximately $7,000 includes design for a future 9,000-square-foot second-floor addition.

National Leader To Be Speaker At Area NEA Dinner

National Education Assn. President Hazel Blanchard will be the featured speaker at the Lincoln Education Association's annual banquet Thursday at the Nebraska Center.

Mrs. Blanchard, an elementary school principal in Fresno, Calif., is the first Californian to head the NEA in 41 years.

About 300 persons are expected to attend the 6:30 p.m. dinner including members of the Lincoln Board of Education, the 4 nominees for board positions, and Lincoln's state senators and members of the Legislature's Educaton Committee.

Retiring school board members Robert Venner and Mrs. Roscoe Hill will be presented plaques by the NEA for their 18 years of service.

The Lincoln Education Assn. has a membership of 1,150 Lincoln educators.

Hallam Plant All Nuclear By First Of July

100% PERMISSION DUE IN MONTH

Hallam—Consumers Public Power District's nuclear facility here will be authorized to go up to 100% of power beginning 2 p.m. CST, May 23, 1963, according to a notice published Tuesday by the Atomic Energy Commission.

J. D. Cochran, CPPD plant superintendent at Hallam, said the plant would be in full operation on July 1 after 8 intermediate steps. Officials look to commercial operation in July or August.

Cochran said the AEC would authorize an additional permit for 100% commercial power before the North American Aviation division of Atomics, International, turns the plant over to CPPD.

Nuclear operation means that the nuclear reactor will be providing steam to the turbine generator now being serviced by a conventional steam boiler.

No cost comparison between nuclear-generated power and steam-generated could be made, Cochran said, until the plant reaches 100% operation. However, the AEC agreement with CPPD says that the nuclear-generated power will not cost more than conventional power.

Full operation of the plant will produce the equivalent of 75,000 net electrical kilowatts. The City of Lincoln requires 133,900 kilowatts at peak demand.

Driver License Fee Increase Advanced

A proposal to increase the cost of drivers licenses and renewals in Nebraska from $2 to $3 per biennium, with part of the added revenue going to finance a state aid to driver education program, was approved 5-2 Tuesday by the Legislature's Education Committee.

The action was taken on LB478, heard earlier.

As drawn, the bill proposed an increase in the fee to $4 but the amount was amended downward in committee.

The committee met for nearly 3 hours to take action on assorted bills heard earlier.

A teacher retirement bill. LB535, stuck in committee when two motions to kill failed and a motion to advance failed 3-2 with two not voting.

Annuity Raised

As amended, the bill provides an increase in the amount of service annuity for a full-time school employe or emeritus member from $1.50 to $2 per month for each year of service. Fifteen years' service are necessary to qualify.

The bill requires teachers to contribute 3½% of their total salary instead of 5% of the first $2,400.

A similar bill, but one apparently more expensive to the state, was killed 4-2.

LB256 would have increased the service necessary to qualify for school retirement allowance, changed the basis for determining an individual service annuity, changed benefits payable on death before retirement and the provisions for deposit by a member.

The retirement advisory committee said this bill would result in a $15 million increase in the state's unfunded liability.

The committee acted on the following other bills in its afternoon-long executive session:

LB370—To change requirements for eligibility for appointment as a reserve teacher, extend the time for application for appointment and increase the compensation. Allows $75 a month for those past 65 with 25 years of service and retired prior to 1956 or had not qualified for social security. Advanced as amended, 4-1.

LB351—To provide for increasing the number of members on the board of trustees of the school retirement system and to provide that the deduction of the state service annuity from members' service annuity be discontinued. Applies only to Omaha school system. Advanced as amended, 6-0.

LB343—To include director of school retirement fund and his professional staff under school retirement program. Killed, 4-2.

Committee Passes Installment Loan Non-Resident Bill

A bill allowing Nebraska courts jurisdiction over non-resident persons and corporations engaging in installment loans in the state was advanced 6-0 by the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee Tuesday.

The bill, LB626, was amended from start to finish by the committee, eliminating that portion which sought to nullify Nebraska four-year-old installment sales act.

Orginally, the bill also proposed that all lending agencies not be allowed to charge more than 15 per cent interest.

Other committee action:

Advanced, 6-0, LB763 proposing corporations be allowed to sell non-voting preferred stock.

Advanced, 6-0, LB723 proposing certain conditions and limitations during the liquidation of a domestic insurance company.

Advanced, 4-2, LB560 proposing to limit to $2.50 the inducements that may be offered by an institution under the supervision of the State Banking Department.

Killed, 4-2, LB475 which sought to change credit unions membership limitations.

Killed, 4-2, LB684 which sought to reduce the number of members of a board of directors of a domestic insurance company that must be Nebraska citizens.

Held LB751 which seeks establishment of a code law for the regulation of banks under the State Banking Department's jurisdiction.

Fourth Of July Bell Ringing OKd

The Legislature Tuesday unanimously adopted a resolution urging Nebraskans to join July 4 in 4 minutes of bell ringing starting at 1 p.m.

Sen. William Moulton of Omaha, sponsor of the Resolution No. 34, said the bell ringing movement has been launched by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in an effort to "reinstill the spirit of independence day."

Moulton said U.S. citizens are forgetting the reason for independence day and making it merely a holiday.

GOP To Drive For Party Unicam

By United Press International

Republican officials said Tuesday they would immediately launch a petition campaign designed to give Nebraska's voters a chance to decide if they want their state senators elected on a partisan basis.

State GOP Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury said preliminary organizing has already been completed for the referendum campaign which will be handled by the State Federation of Republican Women's Clubs.

Denney said the committee was ready to go to work immediately on the petition drive once the Legislature positively refused to put a partisan election amendment on the 1964 ballot. Denney predicted success for the petition campaign.

Joint Disappointment

The referendum campaign also had support from the state Democratic chairman, Russell Hanson of Newcastle, who joined Denney in expressing disappointment that the lawmakers Tuesday refused to revive a committee-killed bill on the issue.

Hanson said the partisan proposal was designed to bring better government to Nebraska. He said he could not explain why the senators were opposed to the measure. He said he did not think partisan elections would cause the defeat of any incumbent legislator who had done a good job in the Unicameral.

Denney said he was "extremely disappointed the senators who voted against reviving the bill did not see fit to give the electorate an opportunity to pass on the question."

He said Mrs. John Lainson of Hastings was general chairman of the petition drive. Mrs. E. E. Thoreson of Lincoln is president of the Republican women.

A little rainy and a little chill in Manhattan these April days. At night, the streets reflect the shimmer of taxi lights in midtown. Far downtown — near Wall street's financial canyon, the pavement is dark and deserted.

In the skyscrapers, an occasional lighted window glows in the dark sky. The nighttime janitor scrubs down the debris of yesterday's commerce.

☆ ☆ ☆

A ghost has been walking the night-dark buildings of lower Broadway. He upsets waste baskets, sending off a ghastly clatter in empty offices.

Who is this night intruder? The uneasy shade of some broker who did a Brodie out the window in the black days of 1929?

The ghost is reported by the janitor. He is a Jamaican. Jamaicans know more about ghosts than anybody.

"Only t'ing to do mus' be get obeah mahn," is the janitor's conclusion.

☆ ☆ ☆

Obeah is a powerful witchcraft. I tried to get an obeah man down in Jamaica. I wanted him to raise the ghost of Annie Parker out in the great ruined Rose Hall.

No obeah man wanted any part of the action. Though I was willing to pay handsomely.

There is a caretaker at Rose Hall. An ancient black Jamaican by name of Amariah Denham. He is usually called Joe.

"No obeah mahn want to talk wit' dat woman," he said seriously. "She de witch, all right. She ride de white horse wit' t'ree legs."

He said: "Sometime you look at dat woman an' she DISAPPEAR! Instead you see maybe de cow or de bull. Or de little bird. She cahn change de shape."

☆ ☆ ☆

I don't know what they have on lower Broadway. But Annie became a ghost by pure wickedness.

Joe showed me the old lower-floor dungeon of Rose Hall—it's a few miles out of Montego Bay on the Jamaica north shore.

"Dis where she torment de slaves," he said.

Maybe the lower Broadway ghost used to torment the stenographers, the wicked thing. Made them retype letters. Or did a lot of hemming and hawing while dictating.

That is very tormenting for a stenographer.

Or, just as they were getting off work, he said:

"Miss Jones, would you mind doing a couple of more letters—few things I forgot."

Thus she missed her hair appointment.

Now he is forced to walk the corridors and upset waste baskets.

☆ ☆ ☆

I was wild to raise Annie Palmer. For one thing, it is ghostly and ghastly out on the Jamaica hillside at the ruins of Rose Hall.

Annie — "She got jealousy wit' she husband because he lak dat girl Millicent," Joe said rolling a lot of white of eye.

"Den Takoo who is she grandfather, him kill Mrs. Palmer."

Takoo strangled her and threw her out the window of the great house.

Once in awhile, she wanders around, scaring the daylights out of whoever is passing by.

I surely wanted to get a look at the ghost of Annie Palmer.

Obeah men are pretty good in Jamaica. Whether they could put a charm on a ghost of a wicked stockbroker is not known.

Could be that the ghost would have to believe in obeah, too. Otherwise it might not work.

No obeah man in Jamaica wanted to fool around with Annie Palmer's ghost for me.

Takoo who did Annie in was an obeah man. Or else, Joe said, "He cahn't do she harm. Dat woman all witch even when she live. Only obeah mahn can kill witch."

U.S. Finmen Add 4 Gold Medals To Pan Am Collection

. . . CUBAN BASEBALL TEAM CHARGED WITH PROFESSIONALISM; U.S. DIAMOND SQUAD WINS ANOTHER

Sao Paulo, Brazil (AP) — The nited States' youthful swimning team swept to 3 more Pan-American Games recrds, tied another and added gold medals to Uncle Sam's rowing collection Tuesday.

The swimming victories by het Jastremski, Kathy Ellis, d Bartsch and Steve Clark, long with one in pistol shootng gave the U.S. 10 gold medals, 6 silver and 5 bronze n 4 days of competition. No ther country has more than single gold medal.

The U.S. also sent two women into the tennis semifinals, won another baseball game and seemed set for 1-2 sweeps in both men's and women's diving.

Another shock occurred, however, when Allen Fox of Los Angeles was upset by Carlos Fernandes of Brazil in a quarter-final tennis match, 6-2 6-0, 3-6, 2-6, 6-4.

The Games' first major controversy turned up when charges of professionalism were raised against the Cuban baseball team.

The feature of Tuesday's activity, however, was the 4 finals events in the swimming meet. In the 3 men's finals U.S. entrants swam 1-2. Americans were 1-3 in the single women's final.

Bartsch, of the University of Michigan, beat Charles Bittick, Long Beach, Calif., by a touch in meet record time of 1 minute, 1.5 seconds in the 100-meter backstroke. Clark, a Yale student, won the 100-meter freestyle in 54.7 seconds with Minnesota's Steve Jackman second. The time equalled the meet record.

The powerful Jastremski broke his own record by two seconds in the 200-meter breaststroke, finishing in 2:35.4. Ken Merten of Pacoima, Calif., was second.

Miss Ellis, a 16-year-old schoolgirl from Indianapolis, won the 100-meter butterfly in a meet record 1:07.6.

Meanwhile, cries of "professionalism" were raised against the Cuban baseball team, which smothered the United States 13-1 in the opening game and now is the favorite for the championship.

In the first major controversy of the games, Victor Luque of the Mexican mission said he was investigating reports that the Cuban team included players from the former Cuban professional leagues.

"If I find it true, I will protest formally," he said. The United States planned no formal protest.

Capt. Franklin Green, a U.S. Air Force officer from San Antonio, Tex., captured first place in the free pistol-shooting competition. The Yanks also picked up a bronze medal when Sgt. Alvin R. Merx of San Antonio finished 3rd.

The U.S. baseball team, rocked 13-1 by Cuba in its opening game, won its second straight with a 5-4 extra-inning decision over Venezuela and seemed sure of another shot at the Cubans in the Round Robin tournament windup next week.

In the women's diving competition Patsy Willard of Mesa, Ariz., and Barbara McAlister of Phoenix, Ariz., were first and second at the completion of their 5 compulsory dives. Dick Giobert, 19-year old Indiana University sophomore, and high schooler Ken Sitzberger, 18, of River Forest, Ill., were at the head of the list after the first half of the men's 3-meter springboard event.

Darlene Hard of Los Angeles, America's top-ranking woman tennis player, and Carole Ann Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif., both won quarter-final matches.

Miss Hard crushed Maureen Schwartz of Brazil 6-3, 6-1 and Miss Caldwell won over a Brazilian also, beating Maria Helena Amorim with equal ease 6-1, 6-3.

Other survivors were top-seeded Maria Esther Bueno of Brazil, who plays Miss Caldwell next, and Yolanda Ramirez of Mexico, who faces Miss Hard.

The U.S. baseball team, a hastily assembled squad made up mostly of youngsters with little experience, came from behind twice in beating Venezuela, the defending champion, in 10 innings.

Charges against the Cuban baseball team were raised after the Cubans won their 3rd straight game beating Brazil 11-2.

The unbeaten Cubans play Mexico Wednesday. They must face the United States again—May 3—in the round robin tournament.

Gilbert and Sitzberger dominated the men's platform diving. Gilbert led the competition with a score of 61.23 points. Sitzberger was second with 58.63 points. Thomas Dineley of Canada was third with 56.44 points.

In other events, Patricia Galvin of San Francisco gained the final in the equestrian dressage event; U.S. women swept the qualifying round in the women's individual foil competition in fencing, the U.S. cyclists were beaten out of the bronze medal by Mexico in the 4,000 meter cycling pursuit race.

Paraguay defeated the American cyclists in the semifinals in 4 minutes, 50 seconds. The U.S. cyslists clocked 4:55.6. The U.S. team members were Robert and William Best of San Francisco, David Sharp of Malibu, Calif., and Dick Van Male of Seal Beach, Calif. Uruguay beat out Argentina for the championship.

Cozad Gets Set

One of the highlights on the Nebraska sports slate each spring has been the Cozad AAU track and field championships.

This year Cozad severed ties with the AAU (the state AAU meet will be held the same day at Midland College in Fremont) and a bigger and better show is in store.

The 1963 affair will be the Midstates Track and Field Championships, slated May 24-25, and will be sanctioned by the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

Dean Dorsey, meet director, sends along some interesting information about plans for the giant Cozad festival. Here's his report:

—This year's meet will have a larger eligibility area than the outdoor championships that have been held in the past. Sanction has been approved by the USTFF for Cozad to host trackmen from Iowa, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Girls' Slate

The rapid growth of girl's interest has prompted our decision to stage a complete program for them on opening day, Friday, May 24. All women's events will be held during the evening session, starting at 7:00 p.m. In the past only short sprints and a few field events have been offered, but by popular request the agenda has been expanded. The slate: 75-yard dash, 400-yard dash, 880-yard run, 50-yard low hurdles, 440-yard relay, shot put (8 pound), discus (junior high), broad jump and high jump.

—All men's events will be held on Saturday, May 25, during the afternoon and evening. The open division will consist of college, university and non-student competitors. The Cozad meet is ideal for the high school athlete because it extends the current season one week after the State Championships. It also gives athletes in all classes an opportunity to compete against one another.

No Red Tape

—Cozad, by obtaining a sanction from the USTFF, eliminates considerable red tape work. During AAU shows in the past it has been necessary to register each athlete, assign him a number and have him publicly appear and register for his registration card. A competitor in this year's Federation meet will not be required to register if he is attending an educational institution (high school or college). Only non-students must register.

—Cozad will continue to present top individual awards to the 4 place winners in each event and the outstanding athlete in all divisions. In addition, team champions and runners-up will also receive large trophies.

—A new event to be offered is the 2-mile steeple chase, which will include 32 hurdles and 8 water jumps.

No question about it—the 1963 Cozad Midstates Track and Field Championships shapes up as a big event on the Nebraska calendar.

Giants, Cards Tied For Lead

. . . 968 WATCH CUBS, BUCS

By Associated Press

The Chicago Cubs scored more runs in one inning than they had scored in a full game previously this season, whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-2, and knocked the Bucs out of first place in the National League Tuesday.

The San Francisco Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals moved into a tie for the league lead, the Giants edging the Cincinnati Reds 4-2 and the Cardinals clobbering the Houston Colts 15-0.

The Cubs, who had not been able to score more than 5 runs in a game this young season, broke loose for 6 in the 4th inning at Pittsburgh, including a 3-run homer by Jim Schaffer and an inside-the park homer by Lou Brock. Only 968, smallest Forbes Field crowd in 20 years, sat through 42-degree weather to see Larry Jackson scatter 8 hits for the Cubs for his second victory.

Frank Howard's two-out homer in the 9th inning, only the second hit of the game for Los Angeles, gave the Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday night.

Ernie Broglio threw his second two-hit shutout of the season for the Cards, while his mates pounded Houston pitching for 17 hits. Ken Boyer with 4 RBI and Bill White with 3 led the Cardinal attack.

Birds Keep Hold On 1st

By United Press International

Milt Pappas pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 5-hit, 1-0 victory over Dick Stigman and the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night in windy, 48-degree weather.

The victory tightened the Orioles' hold on first place in the American League and was achieved when Baltimore scored the only run of the game in the second inning on singles by Brooks Robinson and Joe Gaines and Jerry Adair's sacrifice fly.

The Kansas City A's beat the Detroit Tigers, 3-1, behind the 5-hit pitching of Ed Rakow.

The Athletics scored two runs in the 4th inning when Buba Phillips dropped Jerry Lumpe's fly to center for a two-base error, permitting Jose Tartabull to score from second. Ed Charles singled home Lumpe.

In the 5th inning, second baseman Dick McAuliffe threw wild trying to double up Rakow at second on Wayne Causey's grounder. The throw sailed into left field, Rakow went to 3rd and then scored on Tartabull's second consecutive single.

Norm Cash cracked his 3rd home run of the season in the second inning for Detroit's only run.

Jim Fregosi tied the score with a single in the 9th inning and won it with a 340-foot homer in the 10th as the Los Angeles Angels beat the Washington Senators, 5-4. Fregosi's homer came off ex-Yankee Jim Coates, who suffered his first loss of the season.

Husker Thinclads Set 7 Records In 82-36 Win

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska's track team set 7 new records and equalled another Tuesday afternoon as the Cornhuskers easily outlegged Houston in the annual pre-Drake Relays tuneup for both clubs.

The Cornhuskers piled up 82 points — 47 on the track and 35 in the field — while Houston wound up with 36.

GRAND TOTALS	82	36

It was a meet with "different" aspects since Houston didn't field a complete entry list and Husker coach Frank Sevigne did some experimenting.

For example, NU's Fred Wilke set records in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles — and he soloed over a single lane of hurdles in both events.

Wilke's :14.7 in the highs was two-tenths under the old record and the intermediate mark of :40.0 went as a meet and stadium mark because it was the first time the event was run.

Sevigne jokingly claimed a world record for Wilke in the latter event because he ran over 3-foot, 3-inch hurdles (high school highs) rather than the standard 3-foot (university intermediates) hurdles.

Husker Ray Knaub was a competitive double winner, sweeping the sprints in record time. Ray bested Boyd Timmons of Houston in the 100 with :09.8 and whipped teammate Kent McCloughan in the 220 with :21.7.

Other record performances:

— Victor Brooks added 5 inches to the broad jump mark with 23-11.

— Harry Krebs and Jack Cramer of Nebraska both cleared 6-4 in the high jump to easily erase the old mark of 6-½.

— Husker Gil Gebo strided through a smooth 440 in :48 flat to chop six-tenths of a second off the record.

— The Nebraska mile relay team of Bill Kenny, George O'Boyle, Dick Strand and Ray Stevens tied the meet record with a 3:18.5 clocking.

Mike Fleming turned on the steam in the stretch to edge Stevens in the 880 as the Huskers dominated the match with Laurie Elliott.

Pesek Loses Grudge Match

Referee Tom Novak had good eyes" at Pershing Auitorium Tuesday night.

But unfortunately that idn't help Jack Pesek in his rudge professional rassling natch with Waldo Von Erich — because Novak wasn't peritted to referee the main vent.

Prior to the match, Von Erch protested that Novak hould be barred because of is former association with Pesek on the University of ebraska football team.

So Ted Christy, veteran rappler, official and movie erformer from Hollywood, efereed the main event. And esek didn't get any better hake than he did a month go with Novak watching.

In a rousing semifinal natch, Duke Hoffman — via id from his unexpected "second" Von Erich — took the eciding match from Doug ilbert, but Novak noted that aldo had reached in the ring and tripped Doug. Hoffman was disqualified and Gilbert declared the winner.

When Von Erich showed up for the main event, Hoffman tagged along to be his "second." Pesek stormed Christy to protest, then stomped back to the dressing room to enlist Gilbert as his "second."

Von Erich took the first fall in 7:11 after Hoffman distracted Pesek long enough for the arrogant Austrian to plant a disabling foot in Jack's kidney. But the local favorite of the 1,950 cheering fans applied his abdominal stretch in 4:18 to even the match.

Just 1:45 into the final fall, the two heavyweight rivals collided skull to skull and both slumped to the mat. However, Hoffman — undetected by Christy, but clearly evident to the fans — pushed Von Erich on top of Pesek and Waldo was declared the winner.

Enraged, Pesek — this time with the aid of Gilbert, the earlier victim of villainy — proceeded to pummel Von Erich and Hoffman. But the unpopular verdict was allowed to stand.

Hoffman had used a number of choke holds to set up Gilbert for a 14:45 first fall win in the semi-windup, while Doug came back strong to take the second in 9:12 before gaining the disqualification win in 1:45 of the 3rd fall.

In the special event, Kay Noble — former Lincolnite and now Mrs. Doug Gilbert — whipped Annette Palmer in a crowd-pleasing (except the outcome) girls' match.

The two principal adherents to the "let's play it square" grappling, Guy Mitchell and Bobby Managoff, battled to a no-Pearl Harbor-tactics draw in the one fall opener.

Next Pershing Auditorium professional rassle card will be held Tuesday, May 7.

Doane Thinclads Win W-Club Title

. . . FOUR RECORDS BROKEN IN MEET

How They Scored

Doane	101	Midland	13
Wesleyan	78½	Dana	12
Hastings	24½	Concordia	8

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Doane scored 101 points to second place Wesleyan's 78½, Tuesday evening to win the 8th annual W-Club Invitational track meet at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Four records were broken. In the pole vault, Mike Knaub of Wesleyan, vaulted 13-2, bettering the old mark of 12-6¼, set by D. Iserhagen, of Doane in 1961.

Bill Jones of Wesleyan set a new broad jump mark with a leap of 22-6½. The old record was 22-4¾.

Doane relay teams set records in the 880 and 2-mile relays.

Doane's ace sprinter, Clint Skinner, who was hobbled by a pulled muscle, 3 weeks ago ran in the preliminaries but did not compete in the finals.

Doane runners took a first place in every track event, adding a second place finish in most.

NWU May Be Part Of New Conference

. . . 4-TEAM LOOP EYED

Nebraska Wesleyan University is one of 4 schools forming a "tentative" conference.

The conference will be known as the Great Plains College Association.

Four Great Plains colleges, Colorado College, Doane, Hastings and Nebraska Wesleyan, are exploring the possibilities of closer association.

Nebraska Wesleyan President Vance D. Rogers said the 4 institutions would co-operate in the areas of athletics, forensics, public lectures and special programs in education under the proposed association.

Representatives of the 4 institutions met last week in Colorado Springs, Colo., to establish ground rules and to approve intercollegiate sports schedules for 1963-64.

Athletic teams will compete next year on the football field and on the basketball court.

However, a spokesman for the group emphasized that no committment was made concerning a formal affiliation at this time.

Attending the meeting were:

From Colorado College: President Louis T. Benezet, athletic director Jerry Carle, faculty athletic representative Professor Ray O. Werner; from Doane College: President Donald M. Typer, Dean Daryl Williams, Athletic Director Al Papik; from Hastings College: President Theron B. Maxson, Dean M. G. Scarlett, Athletic Director Tom McLaughlin; from Nebraska Wesleyan University: President Vance D. Rogers, Basketball and Baseball Coach Irvin L. Peterson.

Nebraska Wesleyan played last the 1962-63 athletic schedules as an independent school after dropping out of the Nebraska College Conference.

Hastings and Doane still belong to the Nebraska College Conference. Other members of the NCC are Peru State, Wayne State, Chadron State and Kearney State.

NU 5th Annual Collegiate Rodeo Opens Friday Night

. . . STATE FAIRGROUNDS COLISEUM IS SITE

Yippee! Ride 'em cowboy!

Dust will fly, horses will buck, calves will be roped, riders will be tossed, and queens will be crowned at the 5th Annual Collegiate Championship Rodeo.

The University of Nebraska Rodeo Association (UNRA) will sponsor this Wild West spectacular this coming Friday and Saturday at the indoor arena of the State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Although excitement and fun are expected to reign supreme, concrete benefits will be derived from the enjoyment.

Profits from the rodeo are used to provide scholarships for a senior and incoming freshman at the University of Nebraska.

This year a portion of the profit will be donated to the Children's Zoo fund. The URNA has set a goal of $300.

Students from all accredited colleges and junior colleges in the state are invited to participate in the rodeo.

There will be two night performances and one matinee. Friday and Saturday night the rodeo will start at 7:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon at 1:30 the afternoon session begins.

The cowboys will participate in bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and bull riding.

The cowgirls will try their hand at barrel racing, pole bending, and goat tying.

Another event, which was highly enjoyable last year, is the Fraternity Wild Cow Race. It will be featured again at both Saturday performances.

The prettiest part of the program will be Friday night. That's when queen contestants nominated by the University sororities will be presented.

Students will then elect the rodeo queen, who will be announced Saturday afternoon.

. . . BAD LUCK LEADS TO WATCHING MANY FLYWEIGHT FIGHTS

By JIM BECKER

New York (AP) — Some people run 4-minute miles. Others pole vault 16 feet. Bob Friend sets records for balks.

I hold the record for watching world flyweight championship fights.

The record was not sought. No one seeks out flyweight fights. It came from a certain amount of bad luck and a lot of bounding around Asia, where flyweights still are in vogue.

The hobby is not particularly rewarding. The flyweight limit is 112 pounds and the fights are usually about as lethal as a pillow fight among Vassar coeds.

Most of the decisions go to the man with the most ferocious expression. Seldom is a blow struck in malice.

Flyweights have been extinct in the United States for years. Currently they ply their trade in places like Tokyo, Manila and Bangkok.

I first met the little fellow in Honolulu, about 12 years ago. At that time, a gentle English soul named Terry Allen, who wouldn't hurt another flyweight for the world, had grown tired of starving with the title and had come to Hawaii to give it to Dado Marino.

Allen and Marino fought two of the worst fights in history. Allen was a member of the peck-and-run school. Marino was mildly combative and if an opponent ventured within range he would swing at him. Allen didn't come near him.

Hawaii was not yet a state, but it had already adopted the attitude toward flyweights that prevailed in the rest of the nation. Marino soon found that out. He set out to give it away to the next fellow who came along.

This turned out to be Yoshio Shirai of Japan. Shirai's chief claim to fame was that he stood 5-feet-6, which made him the Wilt Chamberlain of his group.

Shirai whipped Dado, and the pair proceeded to Japan for a rematch. There was some fun connected with the Marino-Shirai rematch. Dado had turned beer salesman in his spare time, which he had lots of, and as a result of sampling his product for purity and flavor, had managed to acquire about 150 pounds.

Reporters who turned up for the weigh-in for the rematch were told that Marino already had come and gone, weighing exactly 112 pounds all the while.

Shirai defended mostly against fellows who were guaranteed to display no base emotions.

Then Shirai fought a fellow from Argentina named Pascual Perez who broke all the flyweight union rules. He fought like he was mad, or something, so he got the title for a while.

Unfortunately, he elected to defend it mainly in Asia, where I was. Once he fought Leo Espinosa in Manila, and those who stayed awake for the full 15 rounds swore that not a blow was landed by either party. This was, frankly, mostly the fault of Espinosa, who operated for about 37 years on the battle plan of avoiding injury at all times.

Perez finally passed the flyweight torch back to the Asians, who at last reports are still at it.

But I have since escaped to New York, where no flyweight can ever get at me again although I still cringe when I see a jockey. They're flyweights, too.

Tough Triple Crown

Toughest triple crown in New York racing is the Metropolitan, Suburban and Brooklyn Handicaps. Whisk Broom II in 1913, Tom Fool in 1953 and Kelso in 1961 were the only horses to win the 3 races.

GOLF GROUPS SEEKING UNIFORM SET OF RULES

New York (UPI)—Why the fuss over the differences in pro and amateur golf rules?

"It's simple," explained Joe Dey of the U.S. Golf Association (USGA). "The people who pay to watch the pros generally are the people who must play the game under the amateur rules. It leads to some confusion.'

Dey conceded pro football has a set of rules different from the colleges and pro basketball differs from the amateur game.

"But when I go out to watch the New York Giants, I don't go home and try to copy Y. A. Tittle," Dey said.

"However, as a golfer I certainly would like to copy Arnold Palmer or Gary Player or Jack Nicklaus and I also might be influenced by the type of rules they play."

Thus the USGA and the Professional Golfers Association (PGA) have been conferring—as they have frequently since the end of World War II—on achieving one world-wide code for American pros and amateurs and all foreign golfers bound by the British rules.

They aren't likely to get into the same camp this year, at least.

"All of us are interested in one set of rules," said Dey. "But they must be workable both for amateur players and highly skilled pros."

Pro rules currently are tougher on some penalties than are the rules agreed on by the USGA for its members clubs and championships.

This is a switch from the early years following World War II when the PGA pushed for softer rules than the USGA in order to increase chances for hot scoring, thereby increasing gate appeal.

Now, however, the pro circuit is loaded with sharpshooters and stiffer penalties may be applied to errant strokes without damaging the box-office one whit.

Less skilled amateurs, on the other hand, couldn't live with a stricter code.

REA Contract Okay Ends Power Suits

Rural Electrification Administration approval of new revised power contracts involving 26 rural electric districts has paved the way for final settlement of long-pending public power litigation.

All parties to the rate and contract suits, except Custer Public Power District, have now agreed to the settlement.

Agreements were signed in Grand Island last February by all agencies except Custer and York County Rural Public Power District. The York district has since agreed to terms of the settlement.

Districts Include

Other participants included Consumers Public Power District, Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

The agreement had been reached pending approval by REA.

Custer, it was learned, has a deadline date in June for its decision on the settlement.

Court action on pending rate suits had been scheduled earlier this week.

In signing pacts to dismiss litigation, the rural districts and CPPD agreed to new contracts with the Nebraska Public Power System, a wholesale contractual agreement bet een Loup and Platte.

Litigation has been pending for more than 3 years.

Official word on REA approval came during the same week that the Legislature's Public Works Committee is hearing major electric generation and transmission reorganization bills.

A hearing on the final two measures is scheduled for 2 p.m., Wednesday.

No Action On Benefits For Some Judges

The Budget Committee Tuesday heard and held for further consideration a bill which proposes a change in the method for determining the retirement benefits for certain county judges.

LB605 seeks to increase the amount of benefits received by county judges in classes 1 through 4.

Morrill County Judge J. C. Conover of Bridgeport told the committee that county judges in these categories now pay more into the retirement system than they receive in annuities.

Under terms of the Judge's Retirement Act, the law now requires that each judge shall contribute 4% of his salary, and, upon retirement shall receive 3 1-3% of his monthly salary multiplied by the number of years of service.

The law also provides that this shall be in addtiion to any social security benefits he might receive, but stipulates that the combination of the two must not exceed 65% of the judge's salary.

Judge Conover explained that salaries of judges in Classes 1 through 4 are so low that in some cases their social security benefits—usually accrued through former employment—total nearly all of the 65% to which they are entitled under the act.

Judge Conover said 76 county judges fall into these categories.

Fort Omaha Will Not Be Closed, Governor Is Told

Fort Omaha will not be closed, the Defense Department has given assurance in a letter to Gov. Frank Morrison.

The communique, released Tuesday, said it has not been decided yet whether to tranfer Naval District Headquarters from Omaha to Chicago, Ill.

But even if the naval command post is phased out, the Defense Department is planning to convert Fort Omaha into a Naval and Marine Corps training station. There are "no plans to defer this project," the letter from Assistant Secretary of Defense Thomas D. Morris said.

Morrison said it seemed to him from the letter that the training center "would be a more extensive operation than at present."

Senator G. Syas Will Try Again On Redistricting Bill

Sen. George Syas of Omaha said Tuesday an attempt will be made on the floor of the Legislature to revive a committee-killed bill seeking mandatory legislative redistricting every 10 years.

"If Sen. (Michael) Russillo doesn't introduce a motion to raise the bill, then I will," Syas said.

Russillo, of Omaha is the principal introducer of the bill, LB578, killed 4-1 by the Government Committee Monday.

Present law says the Legislature may redistrict itself every 10 years.

Gains Are Small On Grain Market

Chicago (AP) — Gains were numerous but mostly small Tuesday in generally dull grain futures dealings on the Board of Trade.

All soybean contracts finished well ahead and at their highs of the day on a late buying flurry which brokers said apparently was due to short covering. The old crop months just about recovered their setbacks of the previous session but the new crop months, where gains were broadest, were substantially higher for the week.

Brokers said a runup in prices of soybean oil appeared to have generated much of the demand in the soybean pit.

New crop wheat attracted support on reports of further deterioration of the winter crop in part of the Great Plains.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, May $2.10½-⅜; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.17¾-⅝; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, May 69⅞ cents; rye unchanged to ¾ higher, May $1.32; soybeans ⅝-1¾ higher, May $2.55⅞-56.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Salesmanship Is Important Tool Of Democratic System

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In a free society such as ours the art of selling should be recognized as an honorable calling.

The recurrent sneering at salesmanship in print — advertising — as hucksterism and Madison Avenue slickness calls for fresh orientation on this subject.

Rukeyser

In contrast with the regimentation of a Communist police state dictatorship, where the decisions are made by little commissars in big jobs, and the over-reaching of governmental planning even under democratic socialism, the keystone of the American competitive system inheres in individual free choice.

Selling symbolizes the decisive role of the customer in a free market.

Selling, which is based on recognition of the dignity of the individual, is a tool of the democratic system.

Like other human disciplines, selling is subject to the varying talent and conscience of the practitioner.

An imaginative builder of new enterprises, with his hair down, was recently talking to me frankly about the pivotal place of selling in the national economy.

The bureaucratic advocate of centralized governmental economic planning subconsciously belittles salesmanship. He tends to take for granted the results of selling effort without recognizing its creative impact.

Social Value

At the present juncture, the persistence of sticky technological unemployment even during high level business activity dramatizes the social value of salesmanship. The human problem is not merely to reemploy older persons out of work, but also to develop career opportunities for the extremely large number of young recruits who are entering the labor market each year.

With automation which makes it feasible to produce existing goods and services with the expenditure of fewer manhours, it is essential to innovate. New goods and services are the fruits of creative research and new product exploration. But an essential link in the effort to balance the national economy through this route is the salesman, whose task is to create customer demand. It is in part a quasi-educational job to excite public interest in new tokens for better living. Thus the effective salesman is not only worthy of his own hire, but through his activity he makes a significant contribution to social wellbeing.

Business could reduce the cost of circulating goods and services if it did more in an insitutional way to sell the customer on the fact that the salesman is a potential social benefactor. Such an effort could put sales resistance on a more rational basis, and should result in reduction of operating costs.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

SENATOR PREDICTS:

No New Plan If Farmers Say No

Washington (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., predicted Tuesday that Congress will refuse to enact substitute wheat price support legislation if farmers reject the proposed new certificate plan in a referendum May 21.

Ellender told a group of farm newsmen that the American Farm Bureau Federation lost its battle against the new wheat control program in Congress "and so they now are trying to beat it in the country."

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he hopes and believes that the necessary two-thirds of the wheat growers will vote for the new program, which is designed to curb wheat surpluses and maintain exports.

"But if they (wheat farmers) turn it down they can't expect Congress to enact another law," he said.

The proposed plan would eliminate the 55-million-acre minimum which present farm law provides for national wheat allotment. Farmers would be allotted specific quotas for sale at one price support level, with a much lower level provided for any excess wheat grown.

Ellender said he had been trying for years to get Congress to remove the 55-million-acre minimum.

He said average wheat production was about 13 bushel an acre when the 55-million-acre allotment was set and now is above 26 bushels.

Once the new wheat program is tested, Ellender said, he would cooperate in any legislation "needed to take out the kinks, if they develop."

Ellender said he had no faith in alternative proposals by the Farm Bureau for retiring crop lands. He said that in the past, such programs including the soil bank had been too expensive and had failed to cut supplies enough.

Bill To Create Feed Grains Division Killed

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee Tuesday killed 5-0 a bill which would have created a Nebraska feed grains division in the State Department of Agriculture and would have taxed feed grain to support its activities.

The new division and feed grains committee as proposed in LB711 would have been patterned roughly after the Nebraska wheat commission, which carries on a utilization and marketing program on wheat.

LB711 was introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and was given public hearing some weeks ago.

Strong support for the bill came from the Nebraska Feed Grain Growers Association. The only opposition at the hearing was voiced by Charles Marshall of Avoca, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, who objected to the compulsory tax checkoff.

Backers of the bill proposed a tax of one-half mill per bushel on all corn, grain sorghum, barley and oats in the state to yield an estimated $158,000 per year for feed grains promotion and development.

In other action Tuesday, the Agriculture Committee heard and sent to the floor LB774, a committee bill revising the formula for taxing school land leases. The bill drew no opposition and was approved 4-0.

It's her 21st birthday, and it's the first day of shooting on the first picture to be produced at Twentieth Century-Fox since the lot was closed down last summer. Sandra wears the bikini in a scene shot Tuesday for the film, "Take Her, She's Mine."

Eagle Rejects Liquor

Dickerson Quits Penitentiary Post

The resignation of S. W. Dickerson as assistant superintendent of prison industries at the Nebraska Penitentiary was announced Tuesday night.

The announcement from the State Penal Complex said Dickerson has accepted a position with the Earl Carter Lumber Co.

Dickerson had been Penitentiary business manager prior to an administrative reorganization announced April 14 by Warden Maurice Sigler.

His resignation is effective May 1.

2 Girls Injured In Two-Car Crash

Seventeen-year-old Lois R. Wondra of 3135 So. 30th bumped the bridge of her nose and suffered bruises and skinned knees in a two-car collision Tuesday.

She was reported in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital. Her passenger, Sara Bentley, 18, of 2828 Jackson Drive, suffered minor injuries but refused medical attention, police said.

The Wondra car was going east on South between 37th and 38th when it ran into the rear of an auto being driven by Kenton P. Haas, about 36, of 2227 So. 57th.

Haas, also eastbound, was slowing down for a vehicle turning onto South, police said, and Miss Wondra, following Haas, applied her brakes, but her foot slipped.

Terry Wants To Drop Corporation Tax Plan

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff Tuesday announced that he will ask the Revenue Committee Thursday to kill his bill providing for taxation of stock in domestic corporations.

The measure, LB15, is scheduled for hearing before the committee that day.

Carpenter's statement followed a public hearing on an amended version of LB405, which would tax all intangible property—including stock in domestic corporations—at one mill. The committee killed the bill.

"The people who advocated the new provisions in LB405, including brokers, bankers and insurance people, did not show up at the hearing," Carpenter said.

"We were just trying to do the desirable thing as far as intangibles were concerned. Now, I'll move to kill LB15 too."

Intent of the present law is to tax stock in domestic and foreign domesticated corporations at 4 mills, Carpenter said, but provisions in the law allow so many deductions that no tax is actually paid.

LB15 would have removed some of the deductions, including actual value of a corporation's property outside of Nebraska and actual value of government bonds owned by the corporation.

All corporations domesticated in Nebraska would have been ordered to file a list of their stockholders with the state tax commissioner each year.

"It is a rare case," Carpenter said, "when any Nebraska corporation pays taxes on its stock."

Stocks in foreign corporations are taxed at a rate of 4 mills. Involved, Carpenter said, is "a question of equity and fairness."

Escape Artist Returned For Federal Trial

Paul Lewis, 42, of Chicago, was brought back to Lincoln Tuesday to face a federal charge of escape from jail. He is being held in jail awaiting trial.

He was one of 4 men who sawed their way out of the federal "bullpen" at the City Jail Sept. 11, 1962, lowered themselves to the ground on a makeshift rope made of mattress covers and got away through the adjoining Fire Department.

Lewis had bragged, before the actual escape, that he would escape, it was learned during questioning of other "bullpen" inmates. He was being held for federal authorities on a charge of transporting a stolen car acrss state lines.

Lewis, who was returned to Lincoln from the Federal Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., was captured Sept. 19 near Hutchinson, Kan.

Grasmick Buys Location For New Liquor Store Site

John Grasmick, Lincoln liquor dealer, has purchased the southwest corner of 25th and O for $52,500 from Swingle Realty, according to a deed filed Monday with the Lancaster County Register of Deeds.

The property, on which a 6-unit apartment building is now located, will be used for a carpeted self-service drive-in retail liquor store, according to Glenn Cekal of Loomis and Hoyt Realty who handled the transaction.

The present structure will be torn down in May and the new 20-by-100 foot-structure will be ready for occupancy by early fall, Cekal said.

It will house separate stores for liquor and beer sales, and a 20 by 20 foot area to be leased.

Grasmick, who now operates Dave and John's Liquor Store at 147 So. 10th, will use the liquor license at the new building.
